Fields Raps Police Jury For 'March'

Says 'Time To Strike Down' Representative

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE — Rep. T. T. Fields of Farmerville lowered the boom Sunday night on E. A. Breedlove, accused promotor of a "march" on the capitol by the Louisiana Police Jury Association.

"I think it's high time that the Legislature should strike down such men as Breedlove who wants to come down here and make a bunch of asses out of us," Fields told the House.

Breedlove, according to Fields jumped him in the Sunday morning papers for co - sponsoring a bill which would permit parishes to have commission types of government.

'WASTING MONEY'

"He (Breedlove) says the Legislature is wasting money," Fields explained. "He says we're throwing it upon the police jury."

Breedlove is executive secretary of the Police Jury Association.

Fields said he had never seen the Police Jury Association "march" on the capitol, adding that his police jury, from Union Parish, would not be represented.

The "march" is scheduled for Wednesday.

On this point Rep. Ford Stinson of Bossier took issue with Fields.

"When Mr. Fields gets up and classifies the Daughters of the American Revolution with the NAACP, then he's speaking for himself," Stinson said.

Rejects Any Thought Of Cancellation

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — President Eisenhower Sunday got a heart-warming welcome to sunny Alaska, first stop on his flying tour to the turbulent Far East. He called his risky journey essential to "improve the climate of international understanding."

Eisenhower flew nonstop to Elmendorf Air Force Base, 700 miles from Soviet Siberia, from Washington after rejecting anew any thought of postponing or cancelling his visit to Tokyo.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who two days ago narrowly escaped a howling Tokyo mob, met him at the airport with a report on the security problem.

BRUSHED ASIDE

Hagerty brushed aside with a "no comment" all questions from newsmen about Eisenhower's June 19-22 goodwill visit to the Japanese capital. They included all queries about whether he believes the government of embattled Prime Minister Nobusske Kishi can insure Eisenhower's safety.

The bipartisan warmth of Alaska's greeting momentarily eased any tension as Eisenhower, arms outstretched, acknowledged the cheers and applause of some 30,000 of the inhabitants of the 49th state.

Democratic Gov. William A. Egan told Eisenhower the prayers of the nation accompany him on his four-nation tour to the Philippines, Formosa and Korea, as well as Japan.

Americans of all parties have closed ranks behind the President, Egan said, to assure the world "we are one people in the cause of freedom and in the cause of human dignity."

Rebellion Is Reported In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Monday (UPI)—Minister of Interior Alfredo Vitolo announced Sunday that an army detachment based at San Luis had rebelled and named Gen. Fortunato Giovanni as "president" of Argentina.

Vitolo said the rebels had seized the radio station LV-13 and police headquarters in San Luis, capital of the province of the same name in west central Argentina.

The radio station LV-13 transmitted a rebel communique signed by a "Gen. Giovanaoni" announcing that the 3rd Army had rebelled against the government of President Arturo Frondizi.

The communique announced the establishment of San Luis as the "capital" of Argentina. Later broadcasts announced a dusk-to-dawn curfew had been imposed on San Luis, ordered the seizure of all official automobiles, and ordered all civilians to hand in any weapons to the military authorities by noon today.

The rebellion caught officials here by surprise. When informed of the radio broadcasts Under Secretary of Interior Guillermo Acuna Anzorena said he had no information of any revolt. Gen. Carlos Toranzo, commander-in-chief of the army, also said he knew nothing about any military rebellion.

13 Segregation Bills Delayed

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Senate Sunday night sidestepped segregation matters as the Legislature began the sixth week of its 60-day session.

Sen. E. W. Gravolet Jr. of Point-a-la-Hache, said the administration's 13 segregation bills would not be taken from the Senate calendar for a floor vote until Monday.

The proposed bill to legalize jitney service in cities ordered to racially integrate public transportation, Gravolet said, won't come up until later in the week.

CO-SPONSORED

Gravolet co-sponsored the jitney bill along with Sen. Wendell P. Harris of Baton Rouge.

The House already has approved the 13 administration segregation measures. All the bills earlier received approval of the Senate Judiciary-B Committee.

The committee voted 8-1 for the jitney bill, which is intended to set up regulations for car-pool type operations for pay in cities ordered to racially integrate public transportation systems.

Opponents claimed the bill is no needed because it doesn't solve anything.

In the Senate committee hearing, the jitney bill was pushed by Dist. Atty. Leander Perez, St. Bernard and Plaquemines parishes, a strong segregationist.

Perez contended the jitney bill would slow down integration of public transportation systems in Baton Rouge, Shreveport and other Louisiana cities.

New Orleans already has street car and bus integration, ordered by a federal court.

Perez claimed the bill also would push the New Orleans public service system and the New Orleans government to file suit to lift the federal court injunction that restrains them from interfering with integration of public transportation facilities.

The administration's bill to spell out voter qualifications may see new action in the House after Tuesday.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis is scheduled to meet then with members of the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation to discuss the bill.

The bill twice went back to the House calendar when it drew objections from lawmakers over provisions to allow two citizens to disqualify a voter for moral reasons

Farmer Calls In Police To Get Farm Back

GVARA, Norway (AP) — Kittil G. Bergan, a farmer, has reported the Prime Minister, the provincial governor and the local sheriff to the police.

He also has formed a committee of one and is threatening to use commando tactics.

Bergan's belligerence stems from a year-old incident when a fruit buyer gave him a bad check for 5,000 kroner $715.

The buyer was caught and fined 75 kroner $10.10, but Bergan never saw his fruit or his money again.

After repeated appeals to the sheriff and finally Socialist Prime Minister Einar Gerhardsen, Bergan declared he would pay no more taxes on his farm until the government helped him get his money back.

The government responded by ordering his farm sold at auction to pay the taxes. The auction is set for July 4.

Bergan now has reported almost everybody concerned to the police and demanded that the auction be called off. He issued a statement saying he will use resistance tactics if he does not get a favorable decision.

"It isn't the money but the principle," said Bergan. "I'll fight to the bitter end."

Negroes Kill White Youth By Kicking

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A white youth was beaten and kicked to death Saturday night in what police described as "an unprovoked attack" outside a resturant in a Negro section of the city.

The victim was Dennis West, 17, of Rochester.

Homicide Sgt. George Edwards said three Negroes, Billy Joe Housely, Clinton J. Harris and Frederick Brown, all in their 20s, were held on suspicion of murder. Edwards said the trio had been drinking.

Police said West and three other Rochester youths had become lost and stopped at the restaurant to ask directions to the downtown area. The West boy went inside while the others stayed in their car.

Edwards said the three Negroes were in the restaurant and attacked West when he left the building. Housely admitted striking the first blow, the sergeant said. West's three companions drove off to call police.

"The fight lasted two or three minutes at most," Edwards said. "West was dead of a brain hemorrhage on arrival at Hurley Hospital."

Housely, Harris and Brown were picked up early Sunday.

'My Fair Lady' Ends Red Tour

MOSCOW (AP) — "My Fair Lady" ended a two-month tour of the Soviet Union Sunday with another round of praise from audience and critics, Tass reported in a dispatch from Kiev.

The Soviet news agency quoted critic Boris Ponomarenko as saying Kiev theatergoers were impressed by the American company's "artistic ingenuity and freshness of interpretation."

Tass said the performers were in turn impressed by the friendly reception they received in Kiev and elsewhere and by the Russians' "love for art and the ardent striving for peace."

Publishing Bill Hits House Snag

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE — Rep. Lantz Womack of Winnsboro ran into trouble Sunday night on a bill requiring the state to publish a list of its employes.

He returned the measure to the calendar when it met opposition from Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' floor leaders.

"In Franklin Parish," Womack told the House, "we have mulecatchers in areas where there are closed stock laws."

TWICE A YEAR

His bill originally was drafted to require the state to publish a list of employes twice a year in the official journal of the parish they reside in.

But when Rep. Risley Triche, a Davis floor leader, took the floor to oppose it, Womack asked the House to return it to the calendar, explaining he would amend it, chopping the time of publication to once annually.

"We've had resolutions like this before," Triche explained. "But it's too costly."

Womack said he realized it might run into money, so therefore he wanted to amend the bill so that the list of employes would be published only once a year.

"We're not taking a stand for or against deadheads in opposing this bill, Triche said.

But Womack said the bill would cut down on "deadheads."

"The people are entitled to know who is working for the state," Womack said, emphasizing that

THIRD MAJOR CLASH

Airing Set For Compensation

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A proposed seven-point overhaul of Louisiana's workmen's compensation law gets an airing Monday at 9 a.m. by the Senate Industrial Relations Committee.

The compensation law changes promise the third major clash of the 60-day Legislature between labor and management spokesmen.

In the two previous clashes, labor forces defeated soundly the proposed reenactment of the right - to - work law and a general law to curb activities of unions.

SOCKRIDER HEADS

Sen. Guy Sockrider Jr., Lake Charles, heads the industrial relations committee.

The workmen's compensation legislation by Sen. A. C. Clemons Jr., Jennings, would:

Provide for appeal to the courts on questions of law.

Those generally are the changes promoted by the Louisiana Forestry Assn., Louisiana Manufacturers Assn., and several other groups.

Burglar Helps Reward Man In Police Tipoff

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A city street cleaner seeking part of a reward for helping capture a safecracking gang has received some unexpected support — from a member of the gang.

George Mallard claims it was his tip on the getaway car that led to the capture of the gang earlier this year. Police said his tip wasn't that important and that he had the color of the car wrong.

Saturday the Tennessean received a letter that said in part, "He was right about the color of the car. I was convinced on this charge and received three to 10 years. I guess he is the one who really started the ball rolling."

It was signed, "Herbert Brown Fields, 53329."

Mallard plans to talk with postal officials, who paid the $2,100 reward to seven city policemen. The alleged activities of the gang included 18 post office burglaries.

Anti-Castro Rebel Said In Official Hands

HAVANA (AP) — An ex-army captain who tried to stir up a revolt against Prime Minister Fidel Castro in the Prime Minister's old revolutionary stamping grounds is reported in the hands of Cuban military authorities Sunday.

A five-man peasant patrol flushed insurgent Manuel Beaton out of hiding in the rugged Sierra Maestra and captured him at dawn Friday, army headquarters said Saturday night.

Beaton carried a pistol, but no shots were fired when the peasant militiamen closed in on him in La Bayamita, about 40 miles west of Santiago. Army officials declined to give further details.

The announcement said Beaton was alone when picked up and his capture completed the round-up of 16 insurgents who had eluded pursuers for months in the rugged wastes of the Sierras. The army said Beaton will be tried by a military tribunal which could give him the death sentence.

The capture report gave a tremendous propaganda boost to Castro's "Peoples army" — a growing network of armed civilian militia.

Castro had led a large number of troops into the mountains last month in unsuccessful pursuit of Beaton.

The capture signals an end to the most bothersome—or at least the most publicized—faction of armed opposition to Castro. There are persistent reports, however,

Congress Gives Up July Fourth Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders scanned their calendar of unfinished business Sunday and gave up any hope of adjourning by July 4.

They began to wonder if Congress can close up shop before July 11, when the national political conventions start with the Democratic meeting in Los Angeles. The spectre of a post-convention session is haunting legislators anxious to go home and campaign for re-election.

Because of the leisurely pace set during the past 5½ months Congress faces the unpleasant prospect of longer daily sessions and fewer prolonged weekend holidays between now and adjournment.

The official "Status of Major Legislation, Second Session," lists only six legislative bills on which action has been taken since the second session of the 86th Congress convened last January.

Head Of Ranch In Cuba Held

Police, who arrested Tash at the ranch Saturday, also charged him with disorderly conduct, resisting military orders and a "crime against the powers of the state."

Police claimed Tash kicked a soldier.

They said Tash pulled down a sign, which appears on property all over Cuba, that reads in part: "This property is Cuban property" and, "Fatherland or death."

WELCOME IN ASIA

Filipinos Want To Impress Ike

MANILA (AP)—Filipinos high and low, in government and out, appear determined to make President Eisenhower's stay here the high point of his welcome in Asia. He arrives Tuesday for a 54-hour visit.

Only a crackpot can spoil the enthusiastic reception planned for Eisenhower in the capital of this former American colony. And U.S. Secret Service men who have checked the President's 10-mile route from the airport pronounced themselves satisfied Sunday with the security arrangements.

The only flicker of public anti-Americanism here was quashed over the weekend when a left-wing labor group abandoned plans for a small demonstration outside the U. S. Embassy.

Workmen hammered on ceremonial arches that will mark the President's route from the airport to Malacanang Palace, where he will stay. Grandstands were going up for his public appearances and giant portraits of a young-ish-looking Eisenhower were being hauled into place.

A large part of Manila's two million population—plus tens of thousands from the back country—are expected to line the roads for a glimpse of the first American president to visit the Philippines. Most city and office workers in the capital have been assured the afternoon off.

With the unsettled situation in South Korea and the anti-American demonstrations in Japan, the general feeling here is it's up to the Filipinos to show Eisenhower that Asians think of him as a friend and benefactor.

WIFE OBJECTED

Lone Flyer Comes Home From Sweden

ATLANTA (AP)—The electronics engineer who flew a single-engined airplane to his native Sweden against his wife's wishes returned to Atlanta and the forgiving arms of his family Sunday.

"I got big hugs from my wife, three girls and a boy," said Carl Olsson. "Everything is all right now."

The 38-year-old native of Eskilstuna, Sweden, flew alone from Wilmington, N. C. to Stockholm, via Bermuda, the Azores, Lisbon and Geneva. He left May 6 and arrived in Stockholm June 3.

When he left Atlanta for Wilmington his wife thought he was going to fly his plane to New York and then ship it to Stockholm. But he decided it was cheaper to make the 5,450-mile trip by plane himself.

Mrs. Olsson was considerably upset when she learned he was flying all the way to Sweden.

But everything turned out fine and she and the children were at Atlanta Municipal Airport when Olsson stepped off a plane from New York after an overnight flight from Sweden.

Olsson said he planned to take his family to Stockholm in July, after spending five years in Atlanta. He owns Oltronix Corp., in Stockholm.

Olsson came to the United States in 1955 to work as an engineer in the Marietta, Ga., division of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Later he began the manufacture and sale of electronic instruments in Atlanta.

Negroes Kill White Youth By Kicking

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A white youth was beaten and kicked to death Saturday night in what police described as "an unprovoked attack" outside a resturant in a Negro section of the city.

The victim was Dennis West, 17, of Rochester.

Homicide Sgt. George Edwards said three Negroes, Billy Joe Housely, Clinton J. Harris and Frederick Brown, all in their 20s, were held on suspicion of murder. Edwards said the trio had been drinking.

Police said West and three other Rochester youths had become lost and stopped at the restaurant to ask directions to the downtown area. The West boy went inside while the others stayed in their car.

Edwards said the three Negroes were in the restaurant and attacked West when he left the building. Housely admitted striking the first blow, the sergeant said. West's three companions drove off to call police.

"The fight lasted two or three minutes at most," Edwards said. "West was dead of a brain hemorrhage on arrival at Hurley Hospital."

Housely, Harris and Brown were picked up early Sunday.

Burglar Helps Reward Man In Police Tipoff

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A city street cleaner seeking part of a reward for helping capture a safecracking gang has received some unexpected support — from a member of the gang.

George Mallard claims it was his tip on the getaway car that led to the capture of the gang earlier this year. Police said his tip wasn't that important and that he had the color of the car wrong.

Saturday the Tennessean received a letter that said in part, "He was right about the color of the car. I was convinced on this charge and received three to 10 years. I guess he is the one who really started the ball rolling."

It was signed, "Herbert Brown Fields, 53329."

Mallard plans to talk with postal officials, who paid the $2,100 reward to seven city policemen. The alleged activities of the gang included 18 post office burglaries.

Head Of Ranch In Cuba Held

Police, who arrested Tash at the ranch Saturday, also charged him with disorderly conduct, resisting military orders and a "crime against the powers of the state."

Police claimed Tash kicked a soldier.

They said Tash pulled down a sign, which appears on property all over Cuba, that reads in part: "This property is Cuban property" and, "Fatherland or death."

WELCOME IN ASIA

Filipinos Want To Impress Ike

MANILA (AP)—Filipinos high and low, in government and out, appear determined to make President Eisenhower's stay here the high point of his welcome in Asia. He arrives Tuesday for a 54-hour visit.

Only a crackpot can spoil the enthusiastic reception planned for Eisenhower in the capital of this former American colony. And U.S. Secret Service men who have checked the President's 10-mile route from the airport pronounced themselves satisfied Sunday with the security arrangements.

The only flicker of public anti-Americanism here was quashed over the weekend when a left-wing labor group abandoned plans for a small demonstration outside the U. S. Embassy.

Workmen hammered on ceremonial arches that will mark the President's route from the airport to Malacanang Palace, where he will stay. Grandstands were going up for his public appearances and giant portraits of a young-ish-looking Eisenhower were being hauled into place.

A large part of Manila's two million population—plus tens of thousands from the back country—are expected to line the roads for a glimpse of the first American president to visit the Philippines. Most city and office workers in the capital have been assured the afternoon off.

With the unsettled situation in South Korea and the anti-American demonstrations in Japan, the general feeling here is it's up to the Filipinos to show Eisenhower that Asians think of him as a friend and benefactor.

'My Fair Lady' Ends Red Tour

MOSCOW (AP) — "My Fair Lady" ended a two-month tour of the Soviet Union Sunday with another round of praise from audience and critics, Tass reported in a dispatch from Kiev.

The Soviet news agency quoted critic Boris Ponomarenko as saying Kiev theatergoers were impressed by the American company's "artistic ingenuity and freshness of interpretation."

Tass said the performers were in turn impressed by the friendly reception they received in Kiev and elsewhere and by the Russians' "love for art and the ardent striving for peace."

WIFE OBJECTED

Lone Flyer Comes Home From Sweden

ATLANTA (AP)—The electronics engineer who flew a single-engined airplane to his native Sweden against his wife's wishes returned to Atlanta and the forgiving arms of his family Sunday.

"I got big hugs from my wife, three girls and a boy," said Carl Olsson. "Everything is all right now."

The 38-year-old native of Eskilstuna, Sweden, flew alone from Wilmington, N. C. to Stockholm, via Bermuda, the Azores, Lisbon and Geneva. He left May 6 and arrived in Stockholm June 3.

When he left Atlanta for Wilmington his wife thought he was going to fly his plane to New York and then ship it to Stockholm. But he decided it was cheaper to make the 5,450-mile trip by plane himself.

Mrs. Olsson was considerably upset when she learned he was flying all the way to Sweden.

But everything turned out fine and she and the children were at Atlanta Municipal Airport when Olsson stepped off a plane from New York after an overnight flight from Sweden.

Olsson said he planned to take his family to Stockholm in July, after spending five years in Atlanta. He owns Oltronix Corp., in Stockholm.

Olsson came to the United States in 1955 to work as an engineer in the Marietta, Ga., division of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Later he began the manufacture and sale of electronic instruments in Atlanta.

Kenner Man Dies After Knife Fight

KENNER, La. (AP) — A 25-year-old Kenner construction worker was stabbed to death Saturday night during an argument with his common-law wife, the Jefferson Parish sheriff's office said.

Thomas N. McDaniel died before he could be taken to a hospital. Mrs. Martha Carolyn Von Werda McDaniel, 22, mother of a 19-month-old baby, was charged with murder in connection with the slaying, officers said.

The McDaniels came here recently from Tulsa, Okla.

Police said a second man, Arthur Raymond Allday of Kenner, was held as a material witness. Officers said Allday was with McDaniel Saturday and tried to rush him to medical help after the stabbing.

The sheriff's office said Mrs. McDaniel said the stabbing occurred during an argument. Mrs. McDaniel said her husband had gotten drunk, and struck her and threatened to hit the baby, police reported.

Officers said McDaniel was stabbed in the heart with a paring knife.

Turkish Law Installs 38 Military Men

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A committee of 38 military officers Sunday night officially became the supreme political power in Turkey.

The military men took over under terms of a new provisional constitution drawn up by the military junta which ousted Premier Adnan Menderes.

The new constitution was announced by members of the National Unity Committee, a body of 38 officers of the Turkish army, navy and air force who organized the rebellion against Menderes. They now directly control the temporary Turkish government of President Cemal Gursel, an army general.

TEMPORARY

The committee said the new constitution is temporary and is intended to last only until new elections can be held in Turkey and a new legislature put in operation.

No date for elections was mentioned.

Truman Says Nation Losing World Friends

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said Sunday that the United States, as the leader of the free world, once was the best thought of nation. But, he added, "We've been losing friends one by one and we can't afford to do that."

"That's exactly what the Iron Curtain people want," Truman said.

He said the foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration should be reviewed and will be in the presidential election campaign.

But the ex-president declined to use a television interview with college students to comment on the U2 spy plane incident or the collapse of the summit conference.

"I'll take that up when we get into the campaign," Truman said on the ABC-TV program, "College News Conference."

He remarked that world conditions have made the election one of the most important the nation has faced.

the radical students federation Zengakuren, which mobbed Hagerty Friday, said 50,000 members would be mobilized to lay seige to Parliament from Monday night on.

The campaign is designed to block ratification of the new U.S.-Japan security treaty by forcing Kishi to resign and dissolve Parliament before the pact becomes law automatically June 19—the day Eisenhower arrives.

Eisenhower seemed touched by Egan's public affirmation of support as he was by the applause and cheers of the Alaskan men, women and children who lined much of the route of his motorcade into Anchorage and back to the base.

With a grin, he watched an impromptu dance on the sidewalk by two Eskimo women in full-length parkas, toured a museum of stuffed Alaskan wildlife and reminisced about his last visit to Alaska 14 years ago.

He warmly applauded when the Eskimo women created a special dance in his honor which they called, "So Long, You'll have a Good trip."

Two hours and 15 minutes later, Eisenhower was back at the Air Force base, an overnight guest in a pink-painted wooden building named, "The Alaskan Chateau." Monday, Eisenhower flies on to the Philippines for a three-day visit to Manila, the capital.

A police official estimated that two - thirds of Anchorage's 47,000 residents had turned out to welcome the President, many with "Welcome Ike" signs supplied by the Republican Women's Club.

On arrival, Eisenhower was in a jaunty mood in contrast to advisors who plainly are worried about Eisenhower's safety when he arrives in Tokyo.

In answering Gov. Egan, Eisenhower recalled he had an uncle who went adventuring into Alaska some time ago during the gold rush days.

"He did not find the gold and I did not talk to him about the glamour," Eisenhower said with a laugh.

Before his big plane departed from Andrews Air Force Base, the President said the purpose of his mission was "to improve the climate of international understanding."

Police Take Man In Raid On Farmhouse

AURORA, Mo. (AP)—A 24-year-old ex-convict terrorized a farm family near Verona, Mo., early Sunday following an escapade which started with his escape from an Aurora police officer Saturday night, police reported.

Two young women in the family, sisters aged 22 and 17, told police they were raped by the man, identified by officers as Theodore Junior Theobald of Monett, Mo.

Aurora police and Lawrence County sheriff's deputies arrested the man in a raid on the farm home, two miles southeast of Verona, after one of the women managed to get to a phone and call for help while Theobald was dozing.

Police said the alleged attack on the women occurred while Theobald held their mother and father and the husband of the 22-year-old woman at bay with a pistol. Names of the family were not released.

The morals section of the bill was cut out, and Davis apparently maneuvered a compromise on the illiterates provision with segregation leaders. Davis said such compromise was in the making.

Rep. John Garrett, Claiborne Parish, was restored to his long-time post of chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation and the committee went to Davis' aid on the stalled bill.

Garrett says the bill may get through the House with amendments. It originally was part of the administration package.

Refuse to leave a place of business after being requested or ordered to do so by the proprietor or manager.

Trespass on private property after being forbidden to do so.

Obstruct public passageways or block streets or sidewalks. Lawful picketing by labor unions and blocking of streets and sidewalks by contractors during work would be exempted.

Disturb the peace by a person interfering with customers in a business establishment.

Incite, solicit, urge, exhort, or instigate other persons to go on private property, knowing these persons have been denied entry to the property.

Make a false report against anyone for the purpose of depriving that person of his rights under the federal and state constitutions.

Make a false report that your constitutional rights have been denied by Louisiana agencies.

Resist arrest between the time a person is arrested and the time incarcerated. This is a redefinition of the crime of resisting arrest.

Seek to unduly influence a registrar of voters or otherwise seek to interfere with performance of the registrar's duties as prescribed by Louisiana law.

Assault the owner or operator of an establishment for refusing entry or service. This again is a redefinition.

Enter a common-law marriage.

Have two or more illegitimate children. Both father and mother would share equally the guilt.

And another law would increase the residence requirement for public welfare assistance from three to five years.

Ike Misses Kodiac Bear 14 Feet High

President Eisenhower stopped in at Jonas Bros. Wildlife Museum Sunday shortly after arriving here to see exhibits of bear, musk ox and other Alaska big game.

"Do you have a Kodiak bear?" the President asked. At the time he was standing beside a mounted bear standing about 14 feet high.

When this was pointed out, Eisenhower commented: "Oh, it was so big I didn't see it."

The President said when he was a boy he did some trapping himself.

"I got 11 cents for muskrat and $1.50 for mink. But I only got about two mink a year."

CLOGGED TOILETS
'TOILAFLEX'
Toilet ALL-ANGLE Plunger
Ordinary plungers don't seat properly, forcing air and water to splash back. Thus you have a mess and you lose the very pressure needed to clear the clogging mass.
With "Toilaflex", designed for toilets, no air or water can escape. The patented, tapered tail forms an air-tight fit: the full pressure plows through the obstruction and swishes it down. Can't miss!

President Eisenhower stopped in at Jonas Bros. Wildlife Museum Sunday shortly after arriving here to see exhibits of bear, musk ox and other Alaska big game.

"Do you have a Kodiak bear?" the President asked. At the time he was standing beside a mounted bear standing about 14 feet high.

When this was pointed out, Eisenhower commented: "Oh, it was so big I didn't see it."

The President said when he was a boy he did some trapping himself.

"I got 11 cents for muskrat and $1.50 for mink. But I only got about two mink a year."

Rockefeller In Full Chase

A recent cartoon showed Rockefeller standing beside a railroad looking after a train that had already passed and saying, "I'd get on if it would back up." The train was named "Nomination." Now Rockefeller knows the train isn't going to back up. He is racing down the tracks behind it as fast as he can go, but, since trains at full speed travel far faster than humans can run, his chances of catching it are extremely slim.

Taking the only course left open to him, the New York governor is aiming pot-shots at Vice-President Richard Nixon in an effort to find some vulnerable spot. He is claiming that Nixon should air his views on every issue before the Republican national convention. Of course, the reason he wants Nixon to do that is to get an opportunity to try to pick flaws in the vice-president's position.

Until after the convention, however, Nixon is virtually committed to go along with the administration program, since he is depending largely on the Eisenhower record, which is good, despite criticism, to gain the nomination for him. Any widely divergent announcement of policy at this time would be likely to weaken his standing with the administration and his chances of winning the nomination. Republican leaders generally agree that after the convention will be time enough for the vice-president to make known whatever views of his that may differ from those of the administration.

Political observers in Washington think Rockefeller's sudden chase after the Republican diadem is both too late and too early. They believe it is too late to get up the necessary momentum and so early that it will kill off any chances of a blitz at the convention itself, since any dramatic effect of a sudden bid will have lost its glamor before the convention opens.

Nixon, who is looked upon as one of the most astute politicians in the nation, immediately challenged Rockefeller to a debate on the issues, offering to submit himself for questioning by Rockefeller in a television appearance. After a three-hour deliberation, Rockefeller turned down the challenge but renewed his sniping.

Now that Rockefeller is running at full speed for the back end of the train, the Republican convention will have a little more spark than had been anticipated. Before, it had looked as if the only contest would be on the naming of a candidate for vice-president and there had been a good deal of speculation that Rockefeller might be given this spot to console him for not getting first place.

One person who may be giving Rockefeller a boost and who is certain to take a lot more interest in the convention if he thinks the New York governor has a chance is Walter Reuther, boss of the AFL-CIO. With his radical-liberal, or leftist, views Reuther is certain to look with a great deal of favor on Rockefeller, the man he has labeled a "good Democrat."

Reuther, who, heretofore, is said to have carried veto power in the Democratic convention and who, reportedly, will throw his full support this year to Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts in an effort to stop Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, would like to get a big finger in the Republican pie too.

If he could bring about the nomination of Rockefeller and Kennedy he would have it made, as he would be able to dictate, largely, the policies of this country.

Chances are, however, that he will fail on both counts. Rockefeller is too far behind the nomination train and the Democrats don't know just what to think either of Kennedy himself or his chances.

City Officials' Pay

One little paragraph in a story carried in the Monroe Morning World on the recent adoption of an annual budget for the city of Monroe may not have received much attention but is worthy of notice. It said:

"Councilmen upped their salaries as allowed by state law. The mayor's salary was increased from $8,500 to $12,000 and the commissioners' salaries rose from $8,000 to $11,000."

A salary raise of $3,500 for the mayor at one jump is quite a boost and so is the $3,000 increase which the commissioners voted for themselves.

The state law fixing the above maximum salaries for city officials in towns the size of Monroe was drawn for the purpose of preventing city officials from requiring their citizens to pay them exorbitant salaries, not to authorize unreasonable jumps in pay.

If the city officials raised the other cities employes in proportion to their own increases, where would the city budget go?

Why let people fix their own pay?

IF NIXON WINS

Rocky Says He Will Support Richard Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Sunday night he would support Vice President Nixon if he wins the Republican presidential nomination, but it will be dificult to carry New York state unless Nixon speaks out on vital issues.

The Republican governor repeated earlier statements that he would support whatever candidates are nominated at the GOP convention. Asked about Nixon, he answered:

"I will support him."

Rockefeller insisted on the NBC-TV program, "Meet the Press," that his recent critical statement concerning Nixon and administration policies was made to insure that there would be adequate debate of national issues before the GOP convention.

Producer Lawrence E. Spivak asked: "Governor, in December of last year when you withdrew you said this, and I quote: 'I am not and shall not be a candidate for nomination for the presidency. This decision is definite and final.' There have been rumors now that there's been a change. Does that statement still stand?"

"It doesn't," said Rockefeller.

He denied he was trying to stop the nomination of Nixon, saying he was interested in the vitality of the party.

This vitality, he said, could best be served by a debate of national issues prior to convention.

He said he did not speak out prior to the summit conference in deference to its importance and added that no debate would be feasible following the selection of a candidate when the party must present a united front.

"I think I'm doing the greatest service to the Republican party that I can by raising these issues," Rockefeller said when asked, in view of the noncandidacy statements and his criticism, "Are you a Republican?"

He referred to talk of his becoming the GOP vice-presidential candidate as a "dead issue."

Adventure In Interviewing

Adventure in Interviewing

Three Hearst newsmen, William Randolph Hearst, Jr., Frank Conniff and Bob Considine, have written a book on their experiences with Khrushchev. The Hearst team spent considerable time with him twice: on the first visit Joseph Kingsbury Smith went along. It was an experiment in journalism, sending a team instead of an individual. It was also an experiment in interviewing. Khrushchev was apparently so anxious to win American good will that he gave these men all the time they needed and spoke freely. It now appears in a book, "Ask Me Anything."

Not one of the team was an expert on Russian affairs, spoke Russian or had any particular relationship to the Communist movement. Their work, therefore, represents an objectivity not too usual in reporting on these subjects. That they came out so well is not as surprising as it may seem, for these men are competent reporters. Also, they are not accustomed to stuffy writing. Perhaps the Hearst style of journalism is not the ideal of the pundits of the schools of journalism, but what appears in print can be read with understanding. And so it is with this book. Take these paragraphs:

"Khrushchev's first purge is credited with being a direct cause of the suicide in November, 1932, of Nadyezhda Alliluyeva, Stalin's wife. She took her life in protest against what her husband, through Khrushchev, was doing to old associates. Her death helped Khrushchev's career. It permitted Stalin to legalize his long relationship with Rosa Kaganovich, sister of Khrushchev's patron. As Kaganovich rose, Khrushchev was pulled along. He began to be invited to the parties of the hierarchy, even to the informal fetes which the new Mrs. Stalin gave at their dacha outside Moscow. A French governess of the Stalin children wrote later:

"'Among other regular guests was a Ukrainian, secretary of a committee at Moscow. He danced well, sometimes alone, sometimes with his hostess. He was a good singer and also liked telling anecdotes which made even Stalin laugh. On one occasion, too, he brought with him his little boy who played with Basil, the son of Stalin.'"

This is the sort of personal relationship that makes history. As Westbrook Pegler put it, "If you want to know what a man thinks, look at the other head on the pillow."

We read of new names and some of them have no trails in our historic memory. For instance, who is Mrs. Furtseva, the only woman on the Presidium? How did she emerge so swiftly and reach such a high place in government? The authors say:

"Furtseva first met the dynamic little man from the Ukraine in 1937, when she was studying chemistry at Moscow's Lomonosov Institute. She is said to have become, not long after, the protegee of Nikolai Bulganin when he was party boss of the Moscow district. Bulganin appointed her propaganda chief in his branch.

"During World War II, she quickly rose to become Secretary of the raion, or 'district.' She also managed to get a part-time job in charge of political agitation in the armed services, which permitted her to continue her association with Nikita Khrushchev."

Further the authors say:

"Furtseva was born in 1910, and is beter looking and dresses better than the average feminine Communist. Her husband, Vladimir Firyubin, has occupied several top diplomatic posts, among them Ambassador to Yugoslavia. He returned to Moscow in 1959 and became Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs, dealing mostly with the inter-Red-bloc matters.

"Furtseva also deals with Soviet relations in the satellite nations, and has done public-relations work among the Communists in Western Europe. A few years ago she visited France for the Bastille Day celebration in company with her Presidium colleague, Mikhail Pervukhin. She displayed her independence by abandoning the sour-faced Pervukhin at the Russian Embassy, and going out with some young French Communists. She danced in the streets and had a jolly good time."

I am not down-grading "Ask Me Anything," by citing these examples of human interest. After all, it is impossible to understand a situation without understanding the people who created it and live it. We picture Khrushchev as a high-blood pressure peasant shouting, cursing, abusing, irritating. But what is this man really? What is his story? What does he think? What are his moods?

This has been accomplished by these reporters with rare skill. I found the book exciting.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Hurts Children

Mother Is Worried Because Six-Year-Old Son Hits Others

In reading the following letter I am sure you will recognize the one sentence which holds the answer to the problem of this distracted mother.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am hoping you may direct or advise me on the following problem. It has caused me great concern and loss of sleep.

My son, who will soon be four, seems to delight in hurting other children, older or younger. And for no apparent reason. Last week I caught him choking a six-year-old child, pushed a two-year-old downstairs, and punched a seven months old in the eye.

I have spanked his bottom so hard and so often, I'm ashamed of myself. It seems I'm just his keeper — feeding, keeping him clean, and spanking. I try to show my love and appreciation for things he does, and when he's playing nice.

I realize every child will fuss and fight at times, but I just don't understand this aggressiveness. I've tried talking it out with my husband, but he makes fun and always says: "That's just being a boy — he'll grow out of it."

But he seems to get worse. I've suggested we discuss it with our family doctor, but my husband seems to think it would be a waste of time.

My son is an only child. I want him to be loved annd liked. The other children in the neighborhood will not play with him. He is lonesome.

I call the neighbor boy over to play, but as soon as he hears someone else out on the street, he's gone. And my son spends the rest of the day under my feet wanting someone to play with.

I am so nervous whenever children are around for fear he will hurt someone badly. I can't get any work done for I have to be on guard. If he's out of doors, I have to stay at a window and police him; and even indoors I can't leave the room for long.

The last straw came last night. My folks and sister were here with her seven months old girl. My son did get awfully close to the baby's eye with a balloon, while I was on the phone. My Dad gave him the devil. I couldn't help but cry.

I feel it's my fault. I have failed somewhere — but where and how?

My son has been sick a lot, and had surgery a few months ago. Seems all this trouble started about that time. He's also starting to stutter badly at times.

What can I do? I have tried so hard, Dr. Steincrohn, I'm just beside myself with worry. Please help me. Mrs. M., Indiana

COMMENT: In the beginning, Mrs. M., I said that there is one line in your letter which is important: "I've suggested we discuss it with our family doctor, but my husband seems to think it would be a waste of time."

I suggest that you don't accept your husband's evaluation of this trying situation. Don't pass it off as "growing pains" until a good doctor assures you that's all there is to it. Insist on getting the advice of a pediatrician or family doctor.

I might guess that your son is unduly hostile; that you are punishing him too much; that he is really sick or that he is just "abnormally normal."

But this is no time for guessing. Tell your husband that a sympathetic doctor may straighten out the boy — and your family — quicker than you think possible. Good luck!

Changeless Car

Savings To Be Effected By Eliminating Costly New Models

One of these days, an American automobile giant will make industry history by announcing the intrdouction of a new car model which will NOT be subject to annual style changes. With such fanfare, the auto company will advertise that savings achieved through elimination of the costly yearly model change will be passed on to you, the buyer, in the form of higher quality auto parts, improvement of the inside of the car, lower prices. And the company will emphasize that when and as there is a new model, the changes will reflect genuine innovations, not superficial improvements.

Also one day soon a leading appliance manufacturer — quite possibly a maker of refrigerators or ranges or washing machines — will come out with a similar announcement. In this instance, the company will boast that its appliance has fewer, not more, pushbuttons, is being simplified, made more functional, practical, economical.

While I cannot guess the precise timing of the revolutionary announcements, I'm positive they are coming.

If you try, you can almost "feel" the signals of rebellion against planned and artificial obsolescence among consumers, distributors, manufacturers, engineers, designers.

As one illustration, J. Gordon Lippincott, a head of the leading industrial designing firm of Lippincott & Margulies, declares that the success of the Volkswagen ads — in which the main appeal is that there are no yearly model changes — is "one of the first cracks in the dike, indicating appreciable numbers of American consumers would prefer not to have a yearly model."

In an article appearing today in McGraw - Hill's Product Engineering, Lippincott warns that not only is the yearly model change concept now penalizing domestic manufacturers and consumers but it also is weakening our competitive position abroad, encouraging many foreign customers to switch to products engineered elsewhere.

As another illustration, a striking indictment of the planned obsolescence theory by businessmen themselves appeared only a couple of months ago in the Harvard Business Review.

Harvard Business School professor John B. Stewart surveyed thousands of business executives and, among other questions, asked, "Do you feel that, for the long - run benefit of the United States, too large a part of our present economy is based on superficial product obsolescence, inducing people to buy new models before their old models are worn out?" A startling 64 per cent answered "yes" to this question! More than two-thirds of the businessmen — many of whom are daily urging "trade now" — believe we are creating a major problem by so doing.

As a third illustration, this Wednesday in New York American Motors' president George Romney is holding a press conference to report on the progress its Kelvinator Division is making on eliminating the annual model change. It would be fabulous indeed if the man who led on the compact car also becomes the leader on this basic change.

We, America's consumers, have been indicating our disenchantment with superficial annual model changes for some time. It is not insignificant that one of the biggest mail responses I've ever received was in response to a column I wrote more than two years ago in which I asked whether you were "really rebelling against the yearly model change . . . foreshadowing a new cycle of production, designing and marketing in our land." Overwhelmingly, your answer was, "Yes, we are in revolt."

Now increasing numbers of manufacturers are squirming under the immense cost burden of upsetting an assembly line every year, meeting an annual deadline for new models, simultaneously trying to appeal to the U. S. buyer's desire for economy and utility.

No one expects the upheaval to come overnight, but it's coming. "New model time" is becoming "any time." Planned obsolescence is itself becoming obsolete.

Yeas Come High

Senators Get About $204.55 For Their Yes Or No Ballots

WASHINGTON, D.C. — "You newspaper fellows are in the wrong business," said C. L. Closelooker, the research man. "How would you like to have worked from January till June at approximately $204.55 a word?"

A word? Was Mr. Closelooker talking about the going rate for poets, playwrights, novelists and ghost writers?

"No, I'm referring to U. S. Senators," said Closelooker, who was taking a close look at statesmanship in the Upper Chamber. "At this writing there have been 110 roll calls in the Senate which, at the annual salary of $22,500, comes to around $204.55 per vote. Of course, the session isn't over yet."

"It's better than you think," pursued C. L. Closelooker. "Unlike reporters, the Senators get paid whether they produce any words or not. Or to put the matter another way, the Senator who answers the least number of roll calls ends up getting more money per word. Now, you take Senator Jack Kennedy. He only answered 25 of the first 110 roll calls. With an absentee record of 77 per cent, Kennedy got $900 per word on the roll calls."

Golly, even for a literary Senator that's very good pay. You'd think Kennedy would want to stay in the Senate, unless he figures on being away from the White House as often as Mr. Eisenhower. Anyhow, the Massachusetts Senator can't attack the President for goofing off on the job, can he?

"Neither can two other Democratic Senators with Presidential ideas in 1960," said Closelooker, his nose against the page. "The record shows that on the first 110 roll calls, Senator Hubert Humphrey missed 75, being absent on 68 per cent of the "yeas" and "nays." Humphrey has pulled out of the presidential race, but he's up for reelection in Minnesota. Senator Symington has missed exactly 55 of the roll calls to date, a 50 per cent absenteeism. Of the Democratic contestants for the White House, only Senator Lyndon Johnson looks good on roll calls. As Majority Leader he's expected to stick around, and he has. He missed only 4 roll calls, giving him an absentee rating of a mere 3 per cent."

Well, Mr. Closelooker wasn't suggesting that only Democrats played hookey, was he? Vice President Nixon is the sole GOP candidate for President, but there are a number of Republican Senators who'd like to be Vice President. What about Senators Morton, Goldwater and Dirksen?

"Morton missed 29 roll calls (26 per cent), Goldwater missed 24 (21 per cent), and Dirksen missed 13 (11 per cent)," said Closelooker. "But, of course, Republicans like to be seen in the Senate chamber — there are so few of them."

It seems incongrous that Senators from both parties would aspire to become national figures while neglecting the work which their States expect of them. There must be some simple explanation. Were these negligible issues on which the several men most likely to be our next President didn't stay on the job?

"Let's take a close look at the issues," said Closelooker, a meticulous man by name and nature. "On the Civil Rights bill, Kennedy missed 16 straight votes. Would you say that Hubert Humphrey prides himself on favoring Clean Elections? Well, there were three roll calls on the Clean Elections bill — and Humphrey missed two of them. Symington plays a lot of jazz about favoring education and school construction. But there were eight roll calls on the Education bill, and the Missouri man wasn't there for four of them."

In brief, these Democratic candidates not only missed a lot of roll calls, but they missed important ones, too.

"Except for Johnson, whose case is a little different," agreed Closelooker. "Of the four roll call votes which the Majority Leader missed, none could be called nationally important. One was a 69-15 confirmation of an Associate Judge to the Court of Claims, and another was the 75-0 clincher on an appropriations bill. Johnson didn't vote on two bills concerning community television antennas which were recommitted (beaten) by votes of 38-35 and 39-38. Being in the television business in Texas, Johnson may have felt some conflict of interest."

But, generally speaking, the voting attendance of the Senatorial I-want-to-be-President group is pretty poor?

"Take a close look," invited Closelooker, "and try to reach any other conclusion."

Rockefeller In Full Chase

A recent cartoon showed Rockefeller standing beside a railroad looking after a train that had already passed and saying, "I'd get on if it would back up." The train was named "Nomination." Now Rockefeller knows the train isn't going to back up. He is racing down the tracks behind it as fast as he can go, but, since trains at full speed travel far faster than humans can run, his chances of catching it are extremely slim.

Taking the only course left open to him, the New York governor is aiming pot-shots at Vice-President Richard Nixon in an effort to find some vulnerable spot. He is claiming that Nixon should air his views on every issue before the Republican national convention. Of course, the reason he wants Nixon to do that is to get an opportunity to try to pick flaws in the vice-president's position.

Until after the convention, however, Nixon is virtually committed to go along with the administration program, since he is depending largely on the Eisenhower record, which is good, despite criticism, to gain the nomination for him. Any widely divergent announcement of policy at this time would be likely to weaken his standing with the administration and his chances of winning the nomination. Republican leaders generally agree that after the convention will be time enough for the vice-president to make known whatever views of his that may differ from those of the administration.

Political observers in Washington think Rockefeller's sudden chase after the Republican diadem is both too late and too early. They believe it is too late to get up the necessary momentum and so early that it will kill off any chances of a blitz at the convention itself, since any dramatic effect of a sudden bid will have lost its glamor before the convention opens.

Nixon, who is looked upon as one of the most astute politicians in the nation, immediately challenged Rockefeller to a debate on the issues, offering to submit himself for questioning by Rockefeller in a television appearance. After a three-hour deliberation, Rockefeller turned down the challenge but renewed his sniping.

Now that Rockefeller is running at full speed for the back end of the train, the Republican convention will have a little more spark than had been anticipated. Before, it had looked as if the only contest would be on the naming of a candidate for vice-president and there had been a good deal of speculation that Rockefeller might be given this spot to console him for not getting first place.

One person who may be giving Rockefeller a boost and who is certain to take a lot more interest in the convention if he thinks the New York governor has a chance is Walter Reuther, boss of the AFL-CIO. With his radical-liberal, or leftist, views Reuther is certain to look with a great deal of favor on Rockefeller, the man he has labeled a "good Democrat."

Reuther, who, heretofore, is said to have carried veto power in the Democratic convention and who, reportedly, will throw his full support this year to Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts in an effort to stop Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, would like to get a big finger in the Republican pie too.

If he could bring about the nomination of Rockefeller and Kennedy he would have it made, as he would be able to dictate, largely, the policies of this country.

Chances are, however, that he will fail on both counts. Rockefeller is too far behind the nomination train and the Democrats don't know just what to think either of Kennedy himself or his chances.

City Officials' Pay

One little paragraph in a story carried in the Monroe Morning World on the recent adoption of an annual budget for the city of Monroe may not have received much attention but is worthy of notice. It said:

"Councilmen upped their salaries as allowed by state law. The mayor's salary was increased from $8,500 to $12,000 and the commissioners' salaries rose from $8,000 to $11,000."

A salary raise of $3,500 for the mayor at one jump is quite a boost and so is the $3,000 increase which the commissioners voted for themselves.

The state law fixing the above maximum salaries for city officials in towns the size of Monroe was drawn for the purpose of preventing city officials from requiring their citizens to pay them exorbitant salaries, not to authorize unreasonable jumps in pay.

If the city officials raised the other cities employes in proportion to their own increases, where would the city budget go?

Why let people fix their own pay?

IF NIXON WINS

Rocky Says He Will Support Richard Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Sunday night he would support Vice President Nixon if he wins the Republican presidential nomination, but it will be dificult to carry New York state unless Nixon speaks out on vital issues.

The Republican governor repeated earlier statements that he would support whatever candidates are nominated at the GOP convention. Asked about Nixon, he answered:

"I will support him."

Rockefeller insisted on the NBC-TV program, "Meet the Press," that his recent critical statement concerning Nixon and administration policies was made to insure that there would be adequate debate of national issues before the GOP convention.

Producer Lawrence E. Spivak asked: "Governor, in December of last year when you withdrew you said this, and I quote: 'I am not and shall not be a candidate for nomination for the presidency. This decision is definite and final.' There have been rumors now that there's been a change. Does that statement still stand?"

"It doesn't," said Rockefeller.

He denied he was trying to stop the nomination of Nixon, saying he was interested in the vitality of the party.

This vitality, he said, could best be served by a debate of national issues prior to convention.

He said he did not speak out prior to the summit conference in deference to its importance and added that no debate would be feasible following the selection of a candidate when the party must present a united front.

"I think I'm doing the greatest service to the Republican party that I can by raising these issues," Rockefeller said when asked, in view of the noncandidacy statements and his criticism, "Are you a Republican?"

He referred to talk of his becoming the GOP vice-presidential candidate as a "dead issue."

Adventure In Interviewing

Adventure in Interviewing

Three Hearst newsmen, William Randolph Hearst, Jr., Frank Conniff and Bob Considine, have written a book on their experiences with Khrushchev. The Hearst team spent considerable time with him twice: on the first visit Joseph Kingsbury Smith went along. It was an experiment in journalism, sending a team instead of an individual. It was also an experiment in interviewing. Khrushchev was apparently so anxious to win American good will that he gave these men all the time they needed and spoke freely. It now appears in a book, "Ask Me Anything."

Not one of the team was an expert on Russian affairs, spoke Russian or had any particular relationship to the Communist movement. Their work, therefore, represents an objectivity not too usual in reporting on these subjects. That they came out so well is not as surprising as it may seem, for these men are competent reporters. Also, they are not accustomed to stuffy writing. Perhaps the Hearst style of journalism is not the ideal of the pundits of the schools of journalism, but what appears in print can be read with understanding. And so it is with this book. Take these paragraphs:

"Khrushchev's first purge is credited with being a direct cause of the suicide in November, 1932, of Nadyezhda Alliluyeva, Stalin's wife. She took her life in protest against what her husband, through Khrushchev, was doing to old associates. Her death helped Khrushchev's career. It permitted Stalin to legalize his long relationship with Rosa Kaganovich, sister of Khrushchev's patron. As Kaganovich rose, Khrushchev was pulled along. He began to be invited to the parties of the hierarchy, even to the informal fetes which the new Mrs. Stalin gave at their dacha outside Moscow. A French governess of the Stalin children wrote later:

"'Among other regular guests was a Ukrainian, secretary of a committee at Moscow. He danced well, sometimes alone, sometimes with his hostess. He was a good singer and also liked telling anecdotes which made even Stalin laugh. On one occasion, too, he brought with him his little boy who played with Basil, the son of Stalin.'"

This is the sort of personal relationship that makes history. As Westbrook Pegler put it, "If you want to know what a man thinks, look at the other head on the pillow."

We read of new names and some of them have no trails in our historic memory. For instance, who is Mrs. Furtseva, the only woman on the Presidium? How did she emerge so swiftly and reach such a high place in government? The authors say:

"Furtseva first met the dynamic little man from the Ukraine in 1937, when she was studying chemistry at Moscow's Lomonosov Institute. She is said to have become, not long after, the protegee of Nikolai Bulganin when he was party boss of the Moscow district. Bulganin appointed her propaganda chief in his branch.

"During World War II, she quickly rose to become Secretary of the raion, or 'district.' She also managed to get a part-time job in charge of political agitation in the armed services, which permitted her to continue her association with Nikita Khrushchev."

Further the authors say:

"Furtseva was born in 1910, and is beter looking and dresses better than the average feminine Communist. Her husband, Vladimir Firyubin, has occupied several top diplomatic posts, among them Ambassador to Yugoslavia. He returned to Moscow in 1959 and became Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs, dealing mostly with the inter-Red-bloc matters.

"Furtseva also deals with Soviet relations in the satellite nations, and has done public-relations work among the Communists in Western Europe. A few years ago she visited France for the Bastille Day celebration in company with her Presidium colleague, Mikhail Pervukhin. She displayed her independence by abandoning the sour-faced Pervukhin at the Russian Embassy, and going out with some young French Communists. She danced in the streets and had a jolly good time."

I am not down-grading "Ask Me Anything," by citing these examples of human interest. After all, it is impossible to understand a situation without understanding the people who created it and live it. We picture Khrushchev as a high-blood pressure peasant shouting, cursing, abusing, irritating. But what is this man really? What is his story? What does he think? What are his moods?

This has been accomplished by these reporters with rare skill. I found the book exciting.

"At this writing there have been 110 roll calls in the Senate which, at the annual salary of $22,500, comes to around $204.55 per vote. Of course, the session isn't over yet."

"It's better than you think," pursued C. L. Closelooker. "Unlike reporters, the Senators get paid whether they produce any words or not. Or to put the matter another way, the Senator who answers the least number of roll calls ends up getting more money per word. Now, you take Senator Jack Kennedy. He only answered 25 of the first 110 roll calls. With an absentee record of 77 per cent, Kennedy got $900 per word on the roll calls."

Golly, even for a literary Senator that's very good pay. You'd think Kennedy would want to stay in the Senate, unless he figures on being away from the White House as often as Mr. Eisenhower. Anyhow, the Massachusetts Senator can't attack the President for goofing off on the job, can he?

"Neither can two other Democratic Senators with Presidential ideas in 1960," said Closelooker, his nose against the page. "The record shows that on the first 110 roll calls, Senator Hubert Humphrey missed 75, being absent on 68 per cent of the "yeas" and "nays." Humphrey has pulled out of the presidential race, but he's up for reelection in Minnesota. Senator Symington has missed exactly 55 of the roll calls to date, a 50 per cent absenteeism. Of the Democratic contestants for the White House, only Senator Lyndon Johnson looks good on roll calls. As Majority Leader he's expected to stick around, and he has. He missed only 4 roll calls, giving him an absentee rating of a mere 3 per cent."

Well, Mr. Closelooker wasn't suggesting that only Democrats played hookey, was he? Vice President Nixon is the sole GOP candidate for President, but there are a number of Republican Senators who'd like to be Vice President. What about Senators Morton, Goldwater and Dirksen?

"Morton missed 29 roll calls (26 per cent), Goldwater missed 24 (21 per cent), and Dirksen missed 13 (11 per cent)," said Closelooker. "But, of course, Republicans like to be seen in the Senate chamber — there are so few of them."

It seems incongrous that Senators from both parties would aspire to become national figures while neglecting the work which their States expect of them. There must be some simple explanation. Were these negligible issues on which the several men most likely to be our next President didn't stay on the job?

"Let's take a close look at the issues," said Closelooker, a meticulous man by name and nature. "On the Civil Rights bill, Kennedy missed 16 straight votes. Would you say that Hubert Humphrey prides himself on favoring Clean Elections? Well, there were three roll calls on the Clean Elections bill — and Humphrey missed two of them. Symington plays a lot of jazz about favoring education and school construction. But there were eight roll calls on the Education bill, and the Missouri man wasn't there for four of them."

In brief, these Democratic candidates not only missed a lot of roll calls, but they missed important ones, too.

"Except for Johnson, whose case is a little different," agreed Closelooker. "Of the four roll call votes which the Majority Leader missed, none could be called nationally important. One was a 69-15 confirmation of an Associate Judge to the Court of Claims, and another was the 75-0 clincher on an appropriations bill. Johnson didn't vote on two bills concerning community television antennas which were recommitted (beaten) by votes of 38-36 and 39-38. Being in the television business in Texas, Johnson may have felt some conflict of interest."

But, generally speaking, the voting attendance of the Senatorial I-want-to-be-President group is pretty poor?

"Take a close look," invited Closelooker, "and try to reach any other conclusion."

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (UPI)— Former United Nations General Assembly President Charles Malik has criticized the Western powers for settling for "peaceful coexistence" with Communism. Drainage work was completed recently on the farm of Harry Mock and A. J. Stephens in the Baskin area. Part of the work was done by C. W. Looney, dragline contractor.

Lateral ditches and field drains designed to take water from fields into the main outlet were constructed by a motor patrol owned by Lantz Womack. Soil Conservation Service technicians supervised work, part of which is covered by ACP cost participation.

Drainage ditches dug several years ago on the farm of Dr. H. T. Rogers are being reworked because of siltation. SCS aids Doyle Cox and Virgil Beall made surveys and staked work for C. W. Looney, dragline contractor. A portion of cost will be shared by ACP.

J. A. Johnson, who lives in Lake Providence, but owns farm land in Franklin parish, is installing new drainage work on one of his farms. He also is reworking ditches that were constructed several years ago. A. L. (Doc) Newsom of Crowville is motor patrol contractor on the project. Technicians from the SCS Winnsboro office are supervising operations.

A group drainage project on the farms of J. C. Ferrington and J. S. Johnson is under way. Plans and stake out of project were handled by engineering aid Joe Martin.

Carl Thomas, Soil Conservation biologist for Louisiana, was working in the Winnsboro area recently. The main purpose of his presence in the area was to assist W. R. McGehee of Wisner in making plans for operating and managing a wildlife area for ducks and other waterfowl. In addition native feed available, McGehee plans to plant brown top millet, which is highly recommended feed for wild ducks.

ON SCOTT PLANTATION

Production Of Pasture Grasses At High Point

TALLULAH — The Scott Plantation near here, one of the largest soybean producers in the state, also reaches a high mark in production of pasture grasses.

Normally about 1,100 acres are devoted to soybeans on the estate of W. M. Scott, which is operated by W. M. Scott Jr., and Warren Patrick. However, the prospect this year is for 1,000 acres of soybeans because of Johnson grass inroads on some of the area.

On the plantation proper, which has an area of around 3,700 acres, 1,500 acres are in row crops, including cotton and corn in addition to beans. Around 1,200 acres are devoted to pastures. Of this amount 900 acres are temporary pastures on new ground.

TIMBER

One-thousand acres of timber land harbors oak, pecan, cottonwood, gum and assorted hardwoods. Some of the timber has been harvested in the past, but fire damage in recent years has halted cutting.

Pastures on the plantation are so productive that even during winter months generally, brood cows get by without hay or any type of feed except green forage, according to Patrick.

Snow which covered the ground during a four-day period last winter forced a change in this feeding procedure, however.

Said Patrick, "We fed more hay this year than in the last seven years. Winter before last we fed no hay or feed of any description to brood cows. We do feed yearling heifers once a day on oats and corn ration in the winter and keep hay available for them."

During the four-day snow period last winter about 1,500 bales of hay were fed to 450 head of cows and calves.

He said that about four years ago, cows were fed some hay because they were getting too much green grazing.

At present there are about 280 head of brood cows on the place, and Patrick said, "We could use about 100 head more."

Most of the cattle are grade type Herefords, while a herd of about 65 registered Hereford cows is kept also. About 15 registered bulls are used for breeding purposes. They are left in pastures with cows from December 1 until August 1. Calving runs from September through May.

There usually is a heavy fall calving period, then scattered during winter, and another heavy period in the spring.

Patrick said he used to want all of the calves in the fall, but now he puts heifers out for breeding at 16 to 17 months of age. Spring heifers placed out in the fall for breeding.

At one time heifers were not bred until they were two years of age, but under that system, he explained, there was a larger percentage of non-breeders, and the animals had more difficulty in calving.

Calves generally are sold at weaning time with weight average running around 410 pounds.

"They will run that or easily more this year," said the cattleman. "We have a better run of calves."

He said there is a better price per pound for calves ranging between 400 to 450 pounds than at heavier weights.

"If we keep them for heavier weight the market starts easing off, and the extra weight won't mean that much difference," he added.

A double cropping system is used on some land where oats or wheat is planted. After grain is combined, land is planted is soybeans. This year in areas, Johnson grass invaded land where soybeans normally would be planted, so more of the land will be left fallow.

Summer pastures consist of bermuda, dallis, and Johnson grass. Winter pastures are wheat and fescue.

All pastures are fertilized annually with ammonium nitrate at the rate of 100 pounds per acre. On fescue pasture it is applied usually late in September, and to temporary wheat pasture after it has become established, usually in early October.

The rapid and abundant growth of Johnson grass was described by Patrick. He said that 60 acres had been planted in Johnson grass, and it grew quite high.

"We placed the cattle on it one day, and came back the next day. We found that the grass was so thick that the cattle couldn't get through it to the water trough. We had to mow a path to the water for them."

GRAZED CLOSE

He said the pasture was grazed close in the fall and seeded to red clover to provide a combination the next year of red clover and Johnson grass.

"We didn't get the hay press out last year, because we didn't use any hay the year before, and wouldn't have had any place to put it." Patrick said, in describing the role of pastures in providing ample forage for cattle year around.

"Each year we leave out some acres for fescue, but can't put it in use immediately. On new ground for temporary pasture we plant wheat for winter grazing," Patrick related.

He said that although a large acreage of new ground had been placed in temporary pastures as a matter of expediency, he had decided the best plan would be to wait until land was ready for establishment of permanent pastures.

The plan that had been followed was to clear land and keep in temporary pasture until drainage was worked out.

On one 650 acre section of new land where wheat and fescue combination was planted, the cattle were put on it last November and December, and are still grazing it. The wheat won't be combined because land is too rough.

The aim of Patrick and Scott is to carry 400 head of brood cows on an all-grass 12-month pasture program. Their cattle operations have been going on for 10 years. Some years ago, however, there had been cattle on the place.

On part of the new ground which is in wheat and fescue there are hardwood trees on the ridges and cypress trees in the lower spots. County Agent Max McDonald pointed out how the land had been in slough and ridge formation before it was reclaimed from low water area.

Another 300-acre block on the plantation is scheduled to be cleared, later in the program to increase permanent winter and summer pastures.

Pastures were sprayed last year in the spring, prior to cotton planting, with 2,4-D. This helped to control white clover in some pasture areas to a point where cattle weren't troubled with bloat as in the past. Weeds were also controlled effectively. Spraying was repeated this year.

To combat flies, several things have been done on the Scott plantation. A chemical dust preparation was placed in bags which were suspended so cattle could bump against them and get some of the material on their backs. These were placed in shade sheds, and are not in extensive use.

Back rubbers, burlap bags soaked in a malathion - diesel oil solution, suspended on chains, are being used also. Cattle can rub against these and get the preparation on them for some relief from flies.

In addition to these measures, malathion has been sprayed on cattle as needed. Animals are penned, and spray applied using a tank pump.

Aerial Photos Of Concordia Farms Taken

Photos were taken during October and November of last year. Farm boundaries are now being placed on the photos, according to T. Wilbur Compton, ASC Parish committee chairman. They will be ready to take to the field when cotton acreage is measured this summer.

Compton said that since these photos will be used where cotton is planted, all fields will be measured and computed in the ASC office. The computed figures, he said, will be the official acreage until some of the changes are made in the field.

This year performance reporters will be paid $2.50 per acre plus nine cents per acre over 10 acres for measuring cotton, instead of a flat daily rate as in the past. He said this should speed up the measuring of cotton.

Farmers who will have land idle this summer may request cost - share assistance for summer legumes to protect the soil. When turned under this fall soil will be ready for oats. Cost - shares are available, said Compton, for this practice. Cowpeas, soybeans, and velvet beans are the approved seed.

Five persons were arrested for operating an illegal lottery.

Flaming Is Used Late In Season In Cotton Fields

FERRIDAY (Special) — Flame cultivation is an accepted practice now used to obtain late season weed and grass control in cotton.

This was reported by Joe Milby, Concordia parish county agent.

The agent said, "It is the most effective on young seedling weeds and grass. Cotton stems that are three - sixteenths of an inch in diamter at the ground level are large enough to stand flame."

Flame may be used, he said, as late in the season as the operator can safety take a tractor through the cotton without plant breakage.

He advised that the flame burner should be set so that the mouth is eight to 10 inches from the drill and eight to 10 inches above the middle. This setup should direct the flame to the ground at a point two to three inches on the burner side of the cotton.

Higgins To Pilot Bosox

To Return After Being Fired In '59

BOSTON (AP) — Pinky Higgins Sunday returned as manager of the Boston Red Sox, succeeding Bill Jurges who had replaced him last summer.

The announcement from owner Tom Yawkey came two hours after the last-place Boston club defeated Chicago 4-1.

Higgins, who was "regrettably" taken off the job last July, comes back under the terms of a "gentlemen's agreement." The salary was not revealed.

As in Higgins' previous term with the Red Sox, which began in 1955, no time limit is included in the understanding.

Higgins will rejoin the team to start a road trip either Monday night or Tuesday morning depending on how soon he can get a flight reservation from his Dallas home.

Since he was replaced, Higgins has been serving in the capacity of a special assistant to Yawkey, working out of the Southwest.

Higgins, a third baseman for the Red Sox and Detroit in his playing days, was pulled off the field in Baltimore a little less than a year ago. The team record was 31-43. Under Jurges the club picked up the rest of the way for a 44-36 mark and finished fifth in the American League.

In his first season as pilot back in 1955, Higgins kept the sox close to the pace in the pennant fight through August before Boston faded off and came in third.

Jurges was removed from the Red Sox managerial post for a "rest" a week ago, but Friday night the Boston club announced a decision to fire the beleaguered pilot of the nose-diving team.

Coach Del Baker 66, has been serving as interim manager.

In the four complete seasons he served as Red Sox manager, Higgins enjoyed a first division finish. Boston was fourth in 1955 and '56, then third in both '57 and '58.

The action was the latest in a rapid-fire sequence for a Boston team that has lost 25 of its last 31 starts.

Higgins' name first came to light in an interview by a local writer who quoted unidentified Sox players as saying they would like to see Mike back. The players were asked what kind of man at the helm would please them.

The writer quoted some athletes as saying "a man we can respect." When pressed several of them named Higgins.

A slow-talking, silent type, Higgins was rapped in his last days as manager for not moving faster in yanking pitchers and putting in pinch hitters. Jurges drew similar criticism for doing the opposite in the waning weeks of his reign.

Jurges moved quickly and with particular success with his pinch hitters last season. But the beginning of the end came on the last road trip in Kansas City.

KEN BOYER, St. Louis Cardinals third baseman, is greeted by a welcoming committee at home plate after hitting his 16th home run of the season against Pittsburgh. On hand to greet him are Bob Nieman (left) who scored ahead of him and Daryl Spencer who hit the next pitch for a homer. (AP Wirephoto)

Vols, Sports Drop To Last Place In La-Ark Standings

Twin Cities entries in the La-Ark League plunged into the cellar for the first time in two years Sunday afternoon as Bastrop got shutout pitching from Joe Roan to whip West Monroe, 2-0, and Sterlington climbed to third place by stopping Monroe, 3-1.

Tonight's only contest sends league - leading Ruston to Dubach. Both clubs were idle yesterday.

A brilliant one - hitter by southpaw Jerry Godwin blew up in the sixth inning as Sterlington broke the spell for four singles and three runs to hand the defending champion Sports their fifth loss against three victories.

Until the sixth Godwin had held the Cats in check, allowing only a third - inning single by Bobby May and two bases on balls. Monroe grabbed its run in the second inning. George Bryan opened the frame with a single and rode all the way home on Lt. Ike McMullen's long double down the left field line.

The roof fell in on Godwin in the sixth as Sterlington sent eight men to the plate. Singles by Jabbo Albritton, Ikie Dumas, Nubbles and May, a walk to Bill Halley and a fielding error by right fielder Bob Betz opened the gates for the three runs.

Sterlington threatened in the seventh on hits by Bob Albritton and Levy Redden but Billy Joe Thomas relieved Godwin and retired the final two men in order.

Halley, who hurled five innings in Sterlington's 17-5 win over Bastrop Saturday afternoon, was credited with his second victory in as many days. The slim right-hander permitted only four hits, two each in the second and third innings, and fanned nine while issuing only one walk.

Getting his strikeouts in paris, Halley whiffed two straight in the second, fourth, sixth and seventh innings.

The game produced one casualty. On an attempted pickoff play in the fifth stanza, Sterlington first sacker Jim Dean applied the tag and broke his glasses in the process. Without an extra pair, he was replaced by Borden who finished up the game.

Roan yielded only three hits as he pitched the Barons to their fifth win against four setbacks. Lefty Jackie Norman went the route for the Vols and was almost as effective, allowing four singles and striking out eight.

Bastrop got its first run in the first inning on two walks, a single by Red Broadnax and a double steal, Jerry Anderson singled in Broadnax with the second counter in the fourth.

The Vols' Tuffey Antley was the only hitter from either team to get more than one hit. He went 2-3.

Vols general manager L. E. Frith said last night the club would make up its rain out date with Ruston Tuesday night. He said the team would leave Dot's Drive In at 5:30 for the Tuesday game.

ON 20 FOOT PUTT

Littler Captures Oklahoma Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Gene Littler ran down a 20-foot birdie putt on the last hole Sunday and won the $30,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament with a 72-hole score of 273.

Littler, an easy-going Californian who jumped into golf prominence by winning the 1953 National Amateur championship over the Oklahoma City Country Club course some 10 miles across, thrilled a gallery of 10,000 with a sensational stretch finish.

He shot a 3-under-par 68 on the day's final round on the 6,440-yard Twin Hills County Club course which has par 35-36—72. He got birdies on the last three holes to shoot down the challenge of Art Wall Jr. and defending champion Arnold Palmer, the current Masters champion.

Littler got a fine birdie 4 on the par 5 16th hole, hitting a four wood to the left of the green on his second shot. Then he pitched up beautifully from 40 feet to within a foot and a half of the hole and ran down his putt.

Lamar Clark, Rademacher To Meet June 29

INDIANS BACK INTO LEAD

A's Drop Orioles Into 2nd; Sweep Twin Bill, 6-1, 5-3

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Kansas City A's knocked Baltimore out of a tie for first place in the American League Sunday, whipping the Orioles 6-1 and 5-3 in 10 innings to sweep a doubleheader.

The twin defeat left the Birds a half-game behind league leading Cleveland in the AL standings. The Indians were rained out of a doubleheader at New York.

Russ Snyder, one of the heroes of the opening game with three hits, touched off the extra-inning rally in the nightcap with a 385-foot triple to right field off losing pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm. Whitey Herzog singled him home and Norm Siebern doubled to center for the second run.

It was Wilhelm's fourth loss against two victories. Johnny Kucks, the fourth Kansas City pitcher, was the winner and now is 1-0.

Baltimore tied it 3-3 in the seventh as Brooks Robinson singled and Al Pilarcik hit a double off the right field bleacher wall to score Robinson.

At that point Marty Kutyna relieved Bob Trowbridge, who had given up seven hits and three walks while striking out two.

In the second inning, when Baltimore catcher Clint Courtney was injured, Kansas City scored twice on doubles by Norm Siebern and Bob Johnson, Dick Williams' single and an error by shortstop Ron Hansen.

Courtney twisted his knee and was taken out of the game after colliding with Kansas City catcher Harry Chiti as Chiti was thrown out at home.

Baltimore picked up two runs in the sixth inning. Wilhelm's single—his first hit in 19 at bats—a double by Marv Breeding and a walk for Gene Stephens filled the bases. Wilhelm scored when Johnson's throw to first—on an attempted doubleplay—for Gene Woodling was too late and Breeding came home on a fly.

A Williams double and a single by Johnson gave Kansas City its run in the fourth inning.

In the first game, Bud Daley, 26-year-old left-hander, held the Orioles to five hits, struck out 11 and walked only one for his eighth victory against two losses. He struck out at least one man in every inning except the last.

Chiti hit the big blow of the game, a double in the third which scored two runs. Snyder was 3-for-5 for the Athletics, one of his singles knocking in a run in the seventh.

The triumph was an old story for Daley. He was 6-1 against the Orioles last year and beat them 7-4 May 17 in a previous meeting this season.

6-WAY TIE POSSIBLE

3 Legion Games On Tap Today

With a six-way tie for first place within reach, Fifth District American Legion junior baseball continues its skin tight race with three games today.

West Monroe travels to Farmerville, Monroe journeys to Rayville and Ruston invades Bastrop for single contests this afternoon.

Defending champion Monroe, Ruston and Farmerville each hold a share of the top rung with identical records of two wins against one defeat. The other clubs, West Monroe, Bastrop and Rayville, are only a game off the pace at one win and two losses.

Should the latter three triumph today, the result would be a deadlock between all six teams, with each standing 2-2. However, victories by the front - runners could put a lot of daylight between the first and second division teams.

Monroe, fresh from a 6 - 4 extra inning decision over Bastrop Friday night, will probably pitch either L. M. Welch, Neal Guna or Mel Jordan against Rayville's Stewart Dyer.

West Monroe's Don McClure will send righthander Charles Taylor to the hill against Farmerville. Taylor lost to Ruston in his only start. McClure said his squad will leave here at 1 p.m. for the three o'clock game.

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — Billy Alsbrook drilled a two - run homer in the eighth inning to give Oak Grove an 8-6 Pelican League victory over St. Joseph. The second game, halted after five innings when St. Joseph left the field with a 3-2 lead, will be completed Thursday.

The win was Oak Grove's seventh against no losses. Ronnie Myrick backed Albrook's game-winning blow with a two - run homer in the first inning.

Oman Rutherford was the winning pitcher, giving up only five hits. Fowler, the loser, was touched for nine safeties.

Winnsboro routed Newellton, 16-3, as John Gray and Joe Henry collected 2-4 each. Bozeman had 2-4 for Newellton. Gerald Thames and James McLemore pitched for the winners with Johnny Robinson and McClain working on the hill for the losers.

WILLIAMS POSTS 5TH WIN

LA Downs Reds On 4-Hitter, 3-1

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Strong boy Stan Williams checked Cincinnati on four hits Sunday and picked up his sixth straight victory as Los Angeles defeated the Reds 3-1.

Williams, never renowned for his control, walked only one, struck out eight and taced only four over the minimum of 27 batters.

The Dodgers, who lost five in a row to the Reds this season before beating them Friday night, got two runs in the fifth inning on singles by Maury Wills, Charley Neal and Norm Laker. They got another in the sixth when Don Demeter slammed his eighth homer over the left field screen.

Williams lost his shutout in the seventh on Eddie Kasko's leadoff homer over the screen. It was his fourth this year.

The only other Redlegs to get hits were Vada Pinson, who singled in the first, Billy Martin, who got a single in the eighth, and Jerry Lynch, who singled in the ninth.

Williams suffered his last loss when Cincinnati beat him here last September. He won later that month and has five victories this season.

Redleg starter Jay Hook was touched for all three Dodger runs and took the loss, his fifth in 10 decisions.

Demeter's homer was the 52nd for the Dodgers this year and it kept them in the league lead in that department, one ahead of Cincinnati.

Bantam Ben Predicts Mark To Be Topped

DENVER (AP)—Four-time winner Ben Hogan says the Cherry Hills course is pretty easy and his record of 276 may be broken this week in the U.S. Open Golf Championship over the 7,004-yard par 71 layout.

But Cary Middlecoff and some other golfers who don't want to be identified said Sunday Bantam Ben is up to an old trick to throw his opponents off strike.

Hogan's using the old psychology again," said Middlecoff. "I've seen that headline before in other Opens."

Hogan, aiming for an unprecedented fifth Open crown, has become the favorite of home pro Ralph (Rip) Arnold as well as a lot of Denver golfers.

He drew the biggest gallery of about 1,000 fans on his practice round. Hogan was last champion in 1953 and set his record 67-72-68-69—276 at the Riviera Country Club in Los Angeles in 1948.

Hogan hasn't been keeping a card on his practice rounds and has been hitting multiple balls on many holes. Arnold, Cherry Hills pro since 1939, thinks the small greens, dog - legged fairways, many traps and bunkers are tailored for a golfer like Hogan.

Many of the title favorites were on the scene including defending champion Billy Casper Jr., Gary Player, the British Open king, Jerry Barber and Jack Nicklaus, the U.S. Amateur champion.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Higgins To Pilot Bosox

To Return After Being Fired In '59

BOSTON (AP) — Pinky Higgins Sunday returned as manager of the Boston Red Sox, succeeding Bill Jurges who had replaced him last summer.

The announcement from owner Tom Yawkey came two hours after the last-place Boston club defeated Chicago 4-1.

Higgins, who was "regrettably" taken off the job last July, comes back under the terms of a "gentlemen's agreement." The salary was not revealed.

As in Higgins' previous term with the Red Sox, which began in 1955, no time limit is included in the understanding.

Higgins will rejoin the team to start a road trip either Monday night or Tuesday morning depending on how soon he can get a flight reservation from his Dallas home.

Since he was replaced, Higgins has been serving in the capacity of a special assistant to Yawkey, working out of the Southwest.

Higgins, a third baseman for the Red Sox and Detroit in his playing days, was pulled off the field in Baltimore a little less than a year ago. The team record was 31-43. Under Jurges the club picked up the rest of the way for a 44-36 mark and finished fifth in the American League.

In his first season as pilot back in 1955, Higgins kept the sox close to the pace in the pennant fight through August before Boston tailed off and came in third.

Jurges was removed from the Red Sox managerial post for a "rest" a week ago, but Friday night the Boston club announced a decision to fire the beleaguered pilot of the nose-diving team.

Coach Del Baker 68, has been serving as interim manager.

In the four complete seasons he served as Red Sox manager, Higgins enjoyed a first division finish. Boston was fourth in 1955 and '56, then third in both '57 and '58.

The action was the latest in a rapid-fire sequence for a Boston team that has lost 25 of its last 31 starts.

Higgins' name first came to light in an interview by a local writer who quoted unidentified Sox players as sayng they would like to see Mike back. The players were asked what kind of man at the helm would please them.

The writer quoted some athletes as saying "a man we can respect." When pressed several of them named Higgins.

A slow-talking, silent type, Higgins was rapped in his last days as manager for not moving faster in yanking pitchers and putting in pinch hitters. Jurges drew similar criticsm for doing the opposite in the waning weeks of his reign.

Jurges moved quickly and with particular success with his pinch hitters last season. But the beginning of the end came on the last road trip in Kansas City.

Critics howled when right-handed Ray Boone, just acquired from Milwaukee, went up to bat as pinch hitter for the American League's top hitter, left-handed Pete Runnels.

KEN BOYER, St. Louis Cardinals third baseman, is greeted by a welcoming committee at home plate after hitting his 16th home run of the season against Pittsburgh. On hand to greet him are Bob Nieman (left) who scored ahead of him and Daryl Spencer who hit the next pitch for a homer. (AP Wirephoto)

Suggs Takes Round Robin With Final 76

ELMSFORD, N.Y. (AP)—Tournament veteran Louise Suggs of Castle View, Ga., fired a 4-over-par 76 Sunday to win the 80th edition of the Women's Round Robin Golf Tournament with a five-round score of 364 and a plus 59 total at rain-soaked Knollwood Country Club.

The 36-year-old former U. S. Open, Amateur and British Amateur champion succeeds Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., as the titlist. Miss Rawls finished second at plus 2? with a 371 medal talley.

Marilynn Smith, president of the Ladies PGA, carded a brilliant 74, best of the final round, to pick up 27 points and finish third with a plus 26 tally. She had a medal total of 273.

CATS, BARONS WIN

Vols, Sports Drop To Last Place In La-Ark Standings

Twin Cities entries in the La-Ark League plunged into the cellar for the first time in two years Sunday afternoon as Bastrop got shutout pitching from Joe Roan to whip West Monroe, 2-0, and Sterlington climbed to third place by stopping Monroe, 3-1.

Tonight's only contest sends league - leading Ruston to Dubach. Both clubs were idle yesterday.

A brilliant one - hitter by southpaw Jerry Godwin blew up in the sixth inning as Sterlington broke the spell for four singles and three runs to hand the defending champion Sports their fifth loss against three victories.

Until the sixth Godwin had held the Cats in check, allowing only a third - inning single by Bobby May and two bases on balls. Monroe grabbed its run in the second inning. George Bryan opened the frame with a single and rode all the way home on Lt. Ike McMullen's long double down the left field line.

The roof fell in on Godwin in the sixth as Sterlington sent eight men to the plate. Singles by Jabbo Albritton, Ikie Dumas, Nubbles and May, a walk to Bill Halley and a fielding error by right fielder Bob Betz opened the gates for the three runs.

Sterlington threatened in the seventh on hits by Bob Albritton and Levy Redden but Billy Joe Thomas relieved Godwin and retired the final two men in order.

Halley, who hurled five innings in Sterlington's 17-5 win over Bastrop Saturday afternoon, was credited with his second victory in as many days. The slim righthander permitted only four hits, two each in the second and third innings, and fanned nine while issuing only one walk.

Getting his strikeouts in paris, Halley whiffed two straight in the second, fourth, sixth and seventh innings.

The game produced one casualty. On an attempted pickoff play in the fifth stanza, Sterlington first sacker Jim Dean applied the tag and broke his glasses in the process. Without an extra pair, he was replaced by Borden who finished up the game.

Roan yielded only three hits as he pitched the Barons to their fifth win against four setbacks. Lefty Jackie Norman went the route for the Vols and was almost as effective, allowing four singles and striking out eight.

Bastrop got its first run in the first inning on two walks, a single by Red Broadnax and a double steal. Jerry Anderson singled in Broadnax with the second counter in the fourth.

The Vols' Tuffey Antley was the only hitter from either team to get more than one hit. He went 2-3.

Vols general manager L. E. Frith said last night the club would make up its rain out date with Ruston Tuesday night. He said the team would leave Dot's Drive In at 5:30 for the Tuesday game.

ON 20 FOOT PUTT

Littler Captures Oklahoma Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Gene Littler ran down a 20-foot birdie putt on the last hole Sunday and won the $30,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament with a 72-hole score of 273.

Littler, an easy-going Californian who jumped into golf prominence by winning the 1953 National Amateur championship over the Oklahoma City Country Club cource some 10 miles across, thrilled a gallery of 10,000 with a sensational stretch finish.

He shot a 3-under-par 68 on the day's final round on the 6,440-yard Twin Hills County Club course which has par 35-36—72. He got birdies on the last three holes to shoot down the challenge of Art Wall Jr. and defending champion Arnold Palmer, the current Masters champion.

Littler got a fine birdie 4 on the par 5 16th hole, hitting a four wood to the left of the green on his second shot. Then he pitched up beautifully from 40 feet to within a foot and a half of the hole and ran down his putt.

Lamar Clark, Rademacher To Meet June 29

LA Downs Reds On 4-Hitter, 3-1

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Strong boy Stan Williams checked Cincinnati on four hits Sunday and picked up his sixth straight victory as Los Angeles defeated the Reds 3-1.

Williams, never renowned for his control, walked only one, struck out eight and faced only four over the minimum of 27 batters.

The Dodgers, who lost five in a row to the Reds this season before beating them Friday night, got two runs in the fifth inning on singles by Maury Wills, Charley Neal and Norm Laker. They got another in the sixth when Don Demeter slammed his eighth homer over the left field screen.

Williams lost his shutout in the seventh on Eddie Kasko's leadoff homer over the screen. It was his fourth this year.

The only other Redlegs to get hits were Vada Pinson, who singled in the first, Billy Martin, who got a single in the eighth, and Jerry Lynch, who singled in the ninth.

Williams suffered his last loss when Cincinnati beat him here last September. He won later that month and has five victories this season.

Redleg starter Jay Hook was touched for all three Dodger runs and took the loss, his fifth in 10 decisions.

Demeter's homer was the 52nd for the Dodgers this year and it kept them in the league lead in that department, one ahead of Cincinnati.

INDIANS BACK INTO LEAD

A's Drop Orioles Into 2nd; Sweep Twin Bill, 6-1, 5-3

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Kansas City A's knocked Baltimore out of a tie for first place in the American League Sunday, whipping the Orioles 6-1 and 5-3 in 10 innings to sweep a doubleheader.

The twin defeat left the Birds a half-game behind league-leading Cleveland in the AL standings. The Indians were rained out of a doubleheader at New York.

Russ Snyder, one of the heroes of the opening game with three hits, touched off the extra-inning rally in the nightcap with a 385-foot triple to right field off losing pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm. Whitey Herzog singled him home and Norm Siebern doubled to center for the second run.

It was Wilhelm's fourth loss against two victories. Johnny Kucks, the fourth Kansas City pitcher, was the winner and now is 1-0.

Baltimore tied it 3-3 in the seventh as Brooks Robinson singled and Al Pilarcik hit a double off the right field bleacher wall to score Robinson.

At that point Marty Kutyna relieved Bob Trowbridge, who had given up seven hits and three walks while striking out two.

In the second inning, when Baltimore catcher Clint Courtney was injured, Kansas City scored twice on doubles by Norm Siebern and Bob Johnson, Dick Williams' single and an error by shortstop Ron Hansen.

Courtney twisted his knee and was taken out of the game after colliding with Kansas City catcher Harry Chiti as Chiti was thrown out at home.

Baltimore picked up two runs in the sixth inning. Wilhelm's single—his first hit in 19 at bats—a double by Marv Breeding and a walk for Gene Stephens filled the bases. Wilhelm scored when Johnson's throw to first—on an attempted doubleplay—for Gene Woodling was too late and Breeding came home on a fly.

A Williams double and a single by Johnson gave Kansas City its run in the fourth inning.

In the first game, Bud Daley, 26-year-old left-hander, held the Orioles to five hits, struck out 11 and walked only one for his eighth victory against two losses. He struck out at least one man in every inning except the last.

Chiti hit the big blow of the game, a double in the third which scored two runs. Snyder was 3-for-5 for the Athletics, one of his singles knocking in a run in the seventh.

The triumph was an old story for Daley. He was 6-1 against the Orioles last year and beat them 7-4 May 17 in a previous meeting this season.

6-WAY TIE POSSIBLE

3 Legion Games On Tap Today

With a six-way tie for first place within reach, Fifth District American Legion junior baseball continues its skin tight race with three games today.

West Monroe travels to Farmerville, Monroe journeys to Rayville and Ruston invades Bastrop for single contests this afternoon.

Defending champion Monroe, Ruston and Farmerville each hold a share of the top rung with identical records of two wins against one defeat. The other clubs, West Monroe, Bastrop and Rayville, are only a game off the pace at one win and two losses.

Should the latter three triumph tofay, the result would be a deadlock between all six teams, with each standing 2-2. However, victories by the front - runners could put a lot of daylight between the first and second division teams.

Monroe, fresh from a 6 - 4 extra inning decision over Bastrop Friday night, will probably pitch either L. M. Welch, Neal Gunn or Mel Jordan against Rayville's Stewart Dyer.

West Monroe's Dan McClure will send righthander Charles Taylor to the hill against Farmerville. Taylor lost to Ruston in his only start. McClure said his squad will leave here at 1 p.m. for the three o'clock game.

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — Billy Alsbrook drilled a two - run homer in the eighth inning to give Oak Grove an 8-6 Pelican League victory over St. Joseph. The second game, halted after five innings when St. Joseph left the field with a 3-2 lead, will be completed Thursday.

The win was Oak Grove's seventh against no losses. Ronnie Myrick backed Albrook's game-winning blow with a two - run homer in the first inning.

Oman Rutherford was the winning pitcher, giving up only five hits. Fowler, the loser, was touched for nine safeties.

Winnsboro routed Newellton, 16-3, as John Gray and Joe Henry collected 2-4 each. Bozeman had 2-4 for Newellton. Gerald Thames and James McLemore pitched for the winners with Johnny Robinson and McClain working on the hill for the losers.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money ref

BIRDS WIN NIGHTCAP, 5-2

Pirates Pound Out 23 Hits To Trounce Cardinals, 15-3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The first-place Pittsburgh Pirates battered St. Louis 15-3 Sunday in the opener of a doubleheader, but the Cardinals bounced back to win the second game 5-2 behind Ernie Broglio and reliever Lindy McDaniel.

Dick Stuart, Dick Groat and Smoky Burgess collected 13 of Pittsburgh's 23 hits in the opener as Vern Law coasted to his ninth victory against two losses. He became the winningest pitcher in the majors.

St. Louis, which took the series, at last hung the nightcap loss on Willmer Mizell, facing his ex-teammates for the first time. The left-hander yielded three runs in his four innings.

In the opener, Stuart drove in five runs and collected five hits, including his sixth and seventh home runs. His first four-bagger came in a six-run first inning that routed starter Ron Kline and tagged the ex-Pirate with his sixth loss in eight decisions.

Groat delivered three singles and a double in four successive innings and Burgess belted four singles. Don Hoak smashed the only other homer, his fifth. It came with two on base on rookie left-hander Cal Browning's first pitch in the majors. Curt Simmons came on in the second and finished.

Law permitted 13 hits, but 11 of them were singles, and he stranded nine runners.

Broglio, notching his third victory against two losses, allowed 10 hits but was scored on only in the fifth. With two out, Hoak singled, Bill Mazeroski doubled and Burgess got a two-run pinch double.

After Gino Cimoli and Hal Smith started the ninth with singles, McDaniel took over. Lindy got Hoak to bounce into a doubleplay and retired Mazeroski on a grounder to post his ninth save.

In the first inning, Julian Javier, who was swapped for Mizell, doubled off the lefty and scored on Bob Nieman's single.

The Cardinals added two markers in the second on a walk, Curt Flood's double and Broglio's single. Against Jim Umbricht, Joe Cunningham belted a homer in the sixth.

The 29,065 crowd was St. Louis' largest at home since Memorial Day of 1958 when attendance hit 30,461.

CHISOX BEATEN, 4-1

Runnels Stars As Bosox Win

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP)—Pete Runnels, Mr. Red Sox in a lean year, beat the Chicago White Sox 4-1 Sunday with a two-run single and a spectacular run-saving catch.

Runnels struck the decisive blow in Boston's three-run fifth to break a 1-1 deadlock.

The slender Texan, who had two hits in four trips and raised his American League batting average to .385, robbed Luis Aparicio with two out and a runner on second in the Chicago fourth. Runnels raced to his right, deep behind second, for a leaping stab that saved a run.

Big Frank Sullivan pitched by far his best game of the season for the last-place Red Sox, scattering seven hits with wide-bending tosses the Chicagoans had trouble hitting solidly.

Sully also touched off the big inning by singling to center on loser Bob Shaw's 3-2 pitch. Green singled him to third before Runnels scored both of them. Ted Williams doubled to right center and Vic Wertz was walked before Marty Keough hit a two-bagger that made it 4-1.

Sullivan entered the game with a 1-6 record and a 5.99 earned run average. It was only the second complete game for the right-hander in eight starts.

Chicago tallied on three hits in the third. Aparicio got a double on a slow, line-hugging roller to right. Fox beat out a bunt with Aparicio going to third. After Jim Landis fouled out and Minnie Minoso flied to right, Roy Sievers hit a looping pop single behind first to bring in the run.

Runnels, who has played three infield position in the past five days, had a third hit taken from him when Minoso leaped to spear his drive at the scoreboard in the first inning.

MCCOVEY HITS GRAND SLAM

Frisco Smashes Milwaukee, 16-7

By ALAN CLINE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—String bean Willie McCovey, benched for weak hitting, smacked a pinch hit grand slam homer Sunday as San Francisco slaughtered Milwaukee 16-7 and moved within one-half game of league-leading Pittsburgh.

The Giants collected 16 hits off five Braves' pitchers.

McCovey, batting for pitcher Johnny Antonelli in the seventh, belted a Carl Willey fast ball high into the strong cross field wind and it dropped out of the playing field about 360 feet from home plate.

The wallop was Willie's first major league grand slammer and his 11th homer of the season although his batting average was down to .244 entering the game.

Cleanup hitter Orlando Cepeda put the Giants ahead in the sixth with a three-run double that left fielder Wes Covington got a glove on but couldn't hold at the left field fence. That ball came off the third Braves' pitcher, Ken McKenzie, who had just come on to relieve Ron Piche.

The Giants' total of 16 hits equaled their season high on May 23 when they battered Chicago in an 18-2 victory.

Billy Loes, second of five Giant pitchers, hurled only one inning but got the victory, his third against one defeat. The loser was Piche, now 0-1.

The Giants picked up six runs in that big seventh on six hits, two errors and two wild pitches.

Bob Schmidt, a .219 hitter, had a perfect day at the plate with two doubles, two singles and a walk. Cepeda had another double. Every Giant in the starting lineup with the exception of third baseman Joe Amalfitano and the pitchers hit safely. Willie Mays had two doubles and a single.

Braves' Manager Chuck Dressen started George Brunet, a left-hander brought up Saturday from Louisville. He lasted 3 2-3 innings and gave up three runs. Piche held the Giants until the roof caved in, in the sixth.

In the eighth second baseman Felix Mantilla dropped a pop fly and catcher Stan Lopata bobbled a pop foul. The Giants picked up three runs in that frame with nine batters coming to the plate. There were three hits, two errors and two wild pitches and two walks by Joe Jay.

The 3 hour and 52 minute contest set a National League record for length of a nine-inning game and tied the all-time major league mark.

2 Grapplers Matched With Humphrey

The makers of the Queensberry Rules might frown on it, but there'll be two against one at the B&B Arena tonight.

Happy Humphrey, the comic book character brought to life — and all 750 pounds of him at that —will take on a pair of husky grapplers at the same time. The fellows who have drawn the dubious honor of opposing Humphrey are Bill Cox and Tony Napolitan, both well- schooled in the ring. Napolitan formerly wrestled here under the alias Black Panther.

Humphrey, who broke into the mat game by wrestling bulls and bears, is said to have weighted 150 pounds at the age of 3.

The three- man duel is billed as the main event. Supporting the attraction will be a semifinal matching Rod Rivera and Chico Venegas. Rivera likes to play it square while Venegas leans to the villanious side.

Boxing Probe By Kefauver Opens Tues.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) announced Sunday that his Senate antitrust investigators will launch their long-awaited inquiry into boxing rackets Tuesday.

Former middleweight champion Jake La Motta will be the main witness at opening hearings.

Kefauver said his probers will try to find out if bribe offers and undercover payments were made by the underworld to control major middleweight and light-heavyweight fights.

He said testimony on this will be sought from La Motta, several boxing managers and even underworld figures themselves.

Kefauver first promised to conduct the investigation last August when Calif. Gov. Edmund G. Brown charged that professional boxing "smells to high heaven." Brown said that if Congress did not force a clean-up, he might have to recommend abolishing all fights in California.

The governor said then that some new national laws were needed because boxing apparently was "infiltrated with racketeers and gangsters."

Dahlbender Breaks Old Tourney Mark

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Gene Dahlbender of Atlanta, Ga., won the Sunnehanna Tournament of Amateur Golf Champions with a 7-under-par 273 Sunday and became the first player to capture the championship twice in its seven-year history.

Dahlbender broke his own tournament record, set in 1956, by three strokes. He shot a final round 73—the first time he went over par in four rounds of the 72-hole medal play tournament.

By the time Dahlbender reached the 18th, the water on the green was so deep that he had to use a 7-iron to chip in a 1-foot putt. His previous putt carried only 2 feet as the ball sent up a spray of water.

Dahlbender bogeyed the hole but the six-stroke cushion he carried into the final round was more than enough to offset the par 70 shot by Dr. Ed Updograff of Tucson, Ariz., who finished second for the third straight year.

Updograff, playing in the three-some just ahead of Dahlbender, carded a 276 total.

One stroke behind and tied for third place were Juan Antonio Estrada of Mexico and Ralph Bogart of Bethesda, Md.

Estrada carved out a closing 4-under-par 66, his second of the tourney, for a 277, total. Bogart fashioned a 34-37—71 over the 6,828-yard par 70 course.

Six colts who have won the Preakness have led in money winnings. They were in order Man o' War, Gallant Fox, Whirlaway, Assault, Citation and Nashua. Bally Ache could be next.

Smith Whips Ware To Win Southern Am

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP)—Hunky Charlie Smith staked his team for a U.S. Walker Cup team berth Sunday with a convincing 4 and 2 victory over Cobby Ware in the 36-hole final of the Southern Amateur Golf Tournament.

The 29-year-old Gastonia, N.C., automobile dealer led from the 18th hole on, although it was not until the 31st that he was able to go more than 2-up over the ministerial student from Augusta, Ga.

Smith was 2-over-par, one on each round, over a Dunes Golf and Beach Club course that was stretched out to about 7,200 yards.

11-HOMER PARADE

Senators Divide Pair With Tigers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jim Lemon, Washington outfielder, walloped three home runs Sunday to pace an 11-homer parade as the Senators split a doubleheader with Detroit, winning the opener 8-3 and dropping the night cap 12-5.

Lemon hit one in the first and two in the second to run his season's total to 16. Detroit's Eddie Yost and Jose Valdivielso of Washington each contributed one in the first.

The stands really got a battering in the second game with eight round-trippers. Rocky Colavito of Detroit matched Lemon's pair and pushed his season's total to 10. Bob Allison added one for Washington. For Detroit, Frank Bolling, Chico Fernandez and even pitcher Frank Lary joined in with one each.

Camilo Pascual was credited with the first game victory even though Don Lee had to be called in to hold the Tigers in check.

Similarly, Lary won the second to raise his mark to 6-5 but needed late-inning help from Tom Morgan.

Pascual fanned six in the first four innings to run his American League-leading total to 90 for the season. But he seemed to weaken in the fifth when Yost belted a homer.

In the sixth, a double by Steve Bilko and singles by Colavito and Lou Berberet with none out sent Pascual to the showers with a 5-2 lead.

Lee held the Tigers to three hits and one run the rest of the way to preserve Pascual's seventy victory of the season against four losses.

Al Kaline, star outfielder playing in his 951th game for the Tigers, was ejected from a game for the first time in his career when he protested a third strike call by Umpire Bob Stewart in the third inning of the first game.

Patterson Rips Sparring Mates

Patterson came back with a couple of left hooks and a right to the chin that sent the Norwegian 10 feet across the ring into the ropes. In the next round Patterson again belted Lingaas with a couple of hard rights and handlers cut the round short.

Earlier the ex-champion had gone one round each with John Henry and Julios Mederos. He finished the workout with six rounds of calisthenics.

Fastest mile ever run by an American was turned in April 23, 1960 by Dyrol Burleson, 19, at Eugene, Ore. He was timed in 3:58.6.

Two Torches Scheduled For Olympic Games

ROME (AP)—There will be two Olympic torches, instead of the traditional one, carried to the 1960 Rome Olympic Games.

In addition to the traditional torch carried from Athens, a second one will be carried to Rome from Tarquinia, 50 miles north of the Italian capital.

The Traquinia torch will symbolize the link between modern Italy and ancient Etruria, where the Etruscan civilization flourished at about the same time as the ancient Greeks devised the original Olympic Games.

Ingo 'Vicious' In Workout

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson had his first early morning workout Sunday since he started training for his June 20 title defense against Floyd Patterson.

In six rounds of boxing, Johansson handed severe punishment to Artie Towne, Billy Johnson and Lennart Risberg, the Swedish light heavyweight champion. He shot his potent right to the stomach as well as the head and had Towne hanging on the ropes.

Pirates Pound Out 23 Hits To Trounce Cardinals, 15-3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The first-place Pittsburgh Pirates battered St. Louis 15-3 Sunday in the opener of a doubleheader, but the Cardinals bounced back to win the second game 5-2 behind Ernie Broglio and reliever Lindy McDaniel.

Dick Stuart, Dick Groat and Smoky Burgess collected 13 of Pittsburgh's 23 hits in the opener as Vern Law coasted to his ninth victory against two losses. He became the winningest pitcher in the majors.

St. Louis, which took the series, 3-1, hung the nightcap loss on Willmer Mizell, facing his ex-teammates for the first time. The left-hander yielded three runs in his four innings.

In the opener, Stuart drove in five runs and collected five hits, including his sixth and seventh home runs. His first four-bagger came in a six-run first inning that routed starter Ron Kline and tagged the ex-Pirate with his sixth loss in eight decisions.

Groat delivered three singles and a double in four successive innings and Burgess belted four singles. Don Hoak smashed the only other homer, his fifth. It came with two on base on rookie left-hander Cal Browning's first pitch in the majors. Curt Simmons came on in the second and finished.

Law permitted 13 hits, but 11 of them were singles, and he stranded nine runners.

Broglio, notching his third victory against two losses, allowed 10 hits but was scored on only in the fifth. With two out, Hoak singled, Bill Mazeroski doubled and Burgess got a two-run pinch double.

After Gino Cimoli and Hal Smith started the ninth with singles, McDaniel took over. Lindy got Hoak to bounce into a doubleplay and retired Mazeroski on a grounder to post his ninth save.

In the first inning, Julian Javier, who was swapped for Mizell, doubled off the lefty and scored on Bob Nieman's single.

The Cardinals added two markers in the second on a walk, Curt Flood's double and Broglio's single. Against Jim Umbricht, Joe Cunningham belted a homer in the sixth.

The 29,065 crowd was St. Louis' largest at home since Memorial Day of 1958 when attendance hit 30,461.

Smith Whips Ware To Win Southern Am

The 29-year-old Gastonia, N.C., automobile dealer led from the 11th hole on, although it was not until the 31st that he was able to go more than 2-up over the ministerial student from Augusta, Ga.

Smith was 2-over-par, one on each round, over a Dunes Golf and Beach Club course that was stretched out to about 7,200 yards.

Patterson Rips Sparring Mates

Patterson came back with a couple of left hooks and a right to the chin that sent the Norwegian 10 feet across the ring into the ropes. In the next round Patterson again belted Lingaas with a couple of hard rights and handlers cut the round short.

Earlier the ex-champion had gone one round each with John Henry and Julios Mederos. He finished the workout with six rounds of calisthenics.

Fastest mile ever run by an American was turned in April 23, 1960 by Dyrol Burleson, 19, at Eugene, Ore. He was timed in 3:58.6.

Cubs Score 8-7 Victory Over Phillies

CHICAGO (AP) — Richie Ashburn's run-scoring single with two out in the 10th gave the Chicago Cubs an 8-7 uphill victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday.

Averill singled with one out in the 10th. When pitcher Mark Freeman sacrificed, second baseman Tony Taylor—who was covering first—threw wildly to third base. This enabled Averill to reach third and score the winning run on Ashburn's infield single.

Freeman, sixth Cub pitcher, was credited with his second triumph in the series. He earned his first major league victory with a four-hitter against the Phils Friday.

A total of 39 players, 21 of them Cubs, saw action in the marathon struggle which lasted 3 hours and 50 minutes.

Philadelphia scored three runs in the first inning on singles by Bobby DelGreco, Tony Curry and Tony Taylor and sacrifice flies by Wally Post and Al Dark. The Cubs picked up a run in their half on Ernie Banks' run-scoring single.

The Cubs cut the margin with two runs in the third only to have the Phils come back with two more in the fifth for a 7-3 lead.

A four-run uprising in the sixth, keyed by five hits including doubles by Banks and Sammy Taylor, tied the score and relief pitchers for both teams settled down to eventually send the game into extra innings.

Runnels Stars As Bosox Win

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP)—Pete Runnels, Mr. Red Sox in a lean year, beat the Chicago White Sox 4-1 Sunday with a two-run single and a spectacular run-saving catch.

The slender Texan, who had two hits in four trips and raised his American League batting average to .385, robbed Luis Aparicio with two out and a runner on second in the Chicago fourth. Runnels raced to his right, deep behind second, for a leaping stab that saved a run.

Big Frank Sullivan pitched by far his best game of the season for the last-place Red Sox, scattering seven hits with wide-bending tosses the Chicagoans had trouble hitting solidly.

Sully also touched off the big inning by singling to center on loser Bob Shaw's 3-2 pitch. Green singled him to third before Runnels scored both of them. Ted Williams doubled to right center and Vic Wertz was walked before Marty Keough hit a two-bagger that made it 4-1.

Sullivan entered the game with a 1-6 record and a 5.99 earned run average. It was only the second complete game for the right-hander in eight starts.

Chicago tallied on three hits in the third. Aparicio got a double on a slow, line-hugging roller to right. Fox beat out a bunt with Aparicio going to third. After Jim Landis fouled out and Minnie Minoso flied to right, Roy Sievers hit a looping pop single behind first to bring in the run.

Runnels, who has played three infield position in the past five days, had a third hit taken from him when Minoso leaped to spear his drive at the scoreboard in the first inning.

Two Torches Scheduled For Olympic Games

ROME (AP)—There will be two Olympic torches, instead of the traditional one, carried to the 1960 Rome Olympic Games.

In addition to the traditional torch carried from Athens, a second one will be carried to Rome from Tarquinia, 50 miles north of the Italian capital.

The Traquinia torch will symbolize the link between modern Italy and ancient Etruria, where the Etruscan civilization flourished at about the same time as the ancient Greeks devised the original Olympic Games.

Ingo 'Vicious' In Workout

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson had his first early morning workout Sunday since he started training for his June 20 title defense against Floyd Patterson.

In six rounds of boxing, Johansson handed severe punishment to Artie Towne, Billy Johnson and Lennart Risberg, the Swedish light heavyweight champion. He shot his potent right to the stomach as well as the head and had Towne hanging on the ropes.

MCCOVEY HITS GRAND SLAM

Frisco Smashes Milwaukee, 16-7

By ALAN CLINE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—String bean Willie McCovey, benched for weak hitting, smacked a pinch hit grand slam homer Sunday as San Francisco slaughtered Milwaukee 16-7 and moved within one-half game of league-leading Pittsburgh.

The Giants collected 16 hits off five Braves' pitchers.

McCovey, batting for pitcher Johnny Antonelli in the seventh, belted a Carl Willey fast ball high into the strong cross field wind and it dropped out of the playing field about 360 feet from home plate.

The wallop was Willie's first major league grand slammer and his 11th homer of the season although his batting average was down to .244 entering the game.

Cleanup hitter Orlando Cepeda put the Giants ahead in the sixth with a three-run double that left fielder Wes Covington got a glove on but couldn't hold at the left field fence. That ball came off the third Braves' pitcher, Ken McKenzie, who had just come on to relieve Ron Piche.

The Giants' total of 16 hits equaled their season high on May 23 when they battered Chicago in an 18-2 victory.

Billy Loes, second of five Giant pitchers, hurled only one inning but got the victory, his third against one defeat. The loser was Piche, now 0-1.

The Giants picked up six runs in that big seventh on six hits, two errors and two wild pitches.

Bob Schmidt, a .219 hitter, had a perfect day at the plate with two doubles, two singles and a walk. Cepeda had another double. Every Giant in the starting lineup with the exception of third baseman Joe Amalfitano and the pitchers hit safely. Willie Mays had two doubles and a single.

Braves' Manager Chuck Dressen started George Brunet, a left-hander brought up Saturday from Louisville. He lasted 3 2-3 innings and gave up three runs. Piche held the Giants until the roof caved in, in the sixth.

In the eighth second baseman Felix Mantilla dropped a pop fly and catcher Stan Lopata bobbled a pop foul. The Giants picked up three runs in that frame with nine batters coming to the plate. There were three hits, two errors and two wild pitches and two walks by Joe Jay.

The 3 hour and 52 minute contest set a National League record for length of a nine-inning game and tied the all-time major league mark.

2 Grapplers Matched With Humphrey

The makers of the Queensberry Rules might frown on it, but there'll be two against one at the B&B Arena tonight.

Happy Humphrey, the comic book character brought to life — and all 750 pounds of him at that —will take on a pair of husky grapplers at the same time. The fellows who have drawn the dubious honor of opposing Humph are Bill Cox and Tony Napolian, both well- schooled in the ring. Napolitan formerly wrestled here under the alias Black Panther.

Humphrey, who broke into the mat game by wrestling bulls and bears, is said to have weighted 150 pounds at the age of 3.

The three- man duel is billed as the main event. Supporting the attraction will be a semifinal matching Rod Rivera and Chico Venegas. Rivera likes to play it square while Venegas leans to the villanious side.

Boxing Probe By Kefauver Opens Tues.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) announced Sunday that his Senate antitrust investigators will launch their long-awaited inquiry into boxing rackets Tuesday.

Former middleweight champion Jake La Motta will be the main witness at opening hearings.

Kefauver said his probers will try to find out if bribe offers and undercover payments were made by the underworld to control major middleweight and light-heavyweight fights.

He said testimony on this will be sought from La Motta, several boxing managers and even underworld figures themselves.

Kefauver first promised to conduct the investigation last August when Calif. Gov. Edmund G. Brown charged that professional boxing "smells to high heaven." Brown said that if Congress did not force a clean-up, he might have to recommend abolishing all fights in California.

The governor said then that some new national laws were needed because boxing apparently was "infiltrated with racketeers and gangsters."

Dahlbender Breaks Old Tourney Mark

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Gene Dahlbender of Atlanta, Ga., won the Sunnehanna Tournament of Amateur Golf Champions with a 7-under-par 273 Sunday and became the first player to capture the championship twice in its seven-year history.

Dahlbender broke his own tournament record, set in 1956, by three strokes. He shot a final round 73—the first time he went over par in four rounds of the 72-hole medal play tournament.

By the time Dahlbender reached the 18th, the water on the green was so deep that he had to use a 7-iron to chip in a 1-foot putt. His previous putt carried only 2 feet as the ball sent up a spray

Leading Tenor In Opera Dies

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Armand Tokatyan, who succeeded Enrico Caruso as the Metropolitan Opera Co.'s leading tenor, died of a heart attack Sunday. He was 64.

Tokatyan joined the Metropolitan in 1923, the year after Caruso's death, and remained with the company until his retirement in 1945.

He had lived quietly in Pasadena for the past eight years, devoting most of his time to coaching young singers.

Tokatyan was to have been the guest of honor Sunday at an Opera Society fete in nearby San Bernardino. He was stricken early in the day and taken to a hospital, where he died. He had suffered a heart attack last summer but friends said he appeared in good health recently.

Of Armenian descent, Tokatyan was born in Alexandria, Egypt, and made his opera debut in 1921 in Milan, Italy, singing the tenor role in Puccini's "Manon Lescaut." He later became identified with the leading roles in Puccini operas.

Tokatyan had been a member of opera companies throughout the world—in San Francisco, Chicago, Philadelphia, Italy, Austria, Germany, England, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

Hotel Fire Kills Man, One Injured

GARY, Ind. (AP) — One man was burned to death and at least one more feared dead in a fire which destroyed a hotel in the middle of the Gary business district Sunday.

Firemen searching smoking rubble of the Commercial Hotel found the scorched body of James Ennis, 70, stretched half in and half out of a doorway on the second floor.

Ennis, a retired steelworker, who was partially deaf died on the opposite side of the building from his room, and firemen believed he collapsed while trying to find an exit through heavy smoke.

Listed as missing was a resident named Francisco Ortega, believed to be in his 20s. His two brothers, Torres and Diaz, said they had not seen him since they and more than 60 other residents fled into the street in their night clothes.

Two hotel occupants were admitted to Mercy Hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Witnesses said a "big, roaring ball of flame" ballooned up in the hotel's ground floor laundry room and climbed rapidly through the three-story building. Nearly 10 firemen fought for more than an hour before bringing the flames under control.

Residents of the brick, 74-room structure awoke in thick, choking smoke. Most of them had no time to gather up belongings or even dress.

Red China Denounces Ike Trip

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China Monday again denounded President Eisenhower's Asian tour, saying it is "closely connected with the U.S. government's endeavor to prop up its stooges in the Far East."

The attack on Eisenhower was made by the official New China News Agency after the President left Washington for a trip that will take him to the Philippines, Formosa, Japan and South Korea.

"Eisenhower's present trip is an immediate move of the U. S. government in creating tension and planning aggression in the world in general and in the Far East in particular after it torpedoed the four-power heads of government conference," the agency said.

Help Offered To Safeguard Egypts Relics

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Culture Minister Sarwat Okasha said Sunday offers have been received from 16 countries and institutions to help safeguard ancient Egyptian temples and monuments threatened by rising Nile waters when the Aswan Dam is built.

The offers were the result of a worldwide campaign launched by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization early this year to save flood-threatened relics of ancient Egypt.

Okasha said approval of the U. S. Congress is pending to allot 20 million dollars to safeguarding the temples. France will complete photographic registration of centuries-old historic relics, he added.

Okasha said the Egypt Exploration Society in London, Yale and Pennsylvania universities, the Chicago Institute of Oriental Studies and London University were among groups planning to carry out excavation and survey work.

Two hotel occupants were admitted to Mercy Hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Witnesses said a "big, roaring ball of flame" ballooned up in the hotel's ground floor laundry room and climbed rapidly through the three-story building. Nearly 10 firemen fought for more than an hour before bringing the flames under control.

Residents of the brick, 74-room structure awoke in thick, choking smoke. Most of them had no time to gather up belongings or even dress.

Red China Denounces Ike Trip

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China Monday again denounded President Eisenhower's Asian tour, saying it is "closely connected with the U.S. government's endeavor to prop up its stooges in the Far East."

The attack on Eisenhower was made by the official New China News Agency after the President left Washington for a trip that will take him to the Philippines, Formosa, Japan and South Korea.

"Eisenhower's present trip is an immediate move of the U. S. government in creating tension and planning aggression in the world in general and in the Far East in particular after it torpedoed the four-power heads of government conference," the agency said.

Help Offered To Safeguard Egypts Relics

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Culture Minister Sarwat Okasha said Sunday offers have been received from 16 countries and institutions to help safeguard ancient Egyptian temples and monuments threatened by rising Nile waters when the Aswan Dam is built.

The offers were the result of a worldwide campaign launched by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization early this year to save flood-threatened relics of ancient Egypt.

Okasha said approval of the U. S. Congress is pending to allot 20 million dollars to safeguarding the temples. France will complete photographic registration of centuries-old historic relics, he added.

Okasha said the Egypt Exploration Society in London, Yale and Pennsylvania universities, the Chicago Institute of Oriental Studies and London University were among groups planning to carry out excavation and survey work.

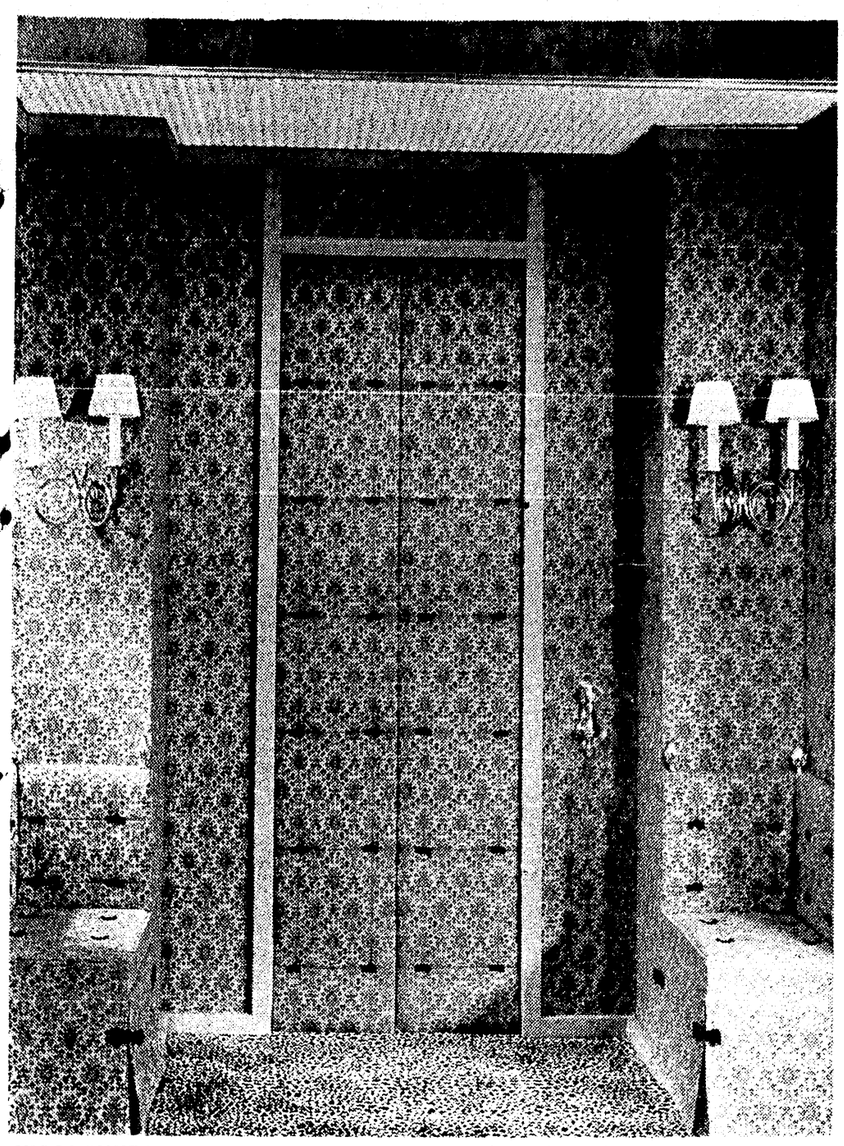
WOMAN'S WORLD



WOOLSUEDE, printed for the first time, is used generously in this entry hall. It covers the walls and doors as well as small benches usefull for removing rubbers. The last two are tufted with trim black bows, an effective contrast against the bittersweet background of the print. Rug, which picks up the colors, is an imitation of leopard skin. Brass hardware provides finishing touches. Such an installation would be easy for the amateur to duplicate for the felt comes ready to paste on the wall and also by the yard and can be glued as well as sewn.

Flamboyant Fantasy, Fun In The Foyer

By BETTY PEPIS

Foyers are fun to decorate. Since they are a place where people pause, rather than linger, the decoration of them can be more flamboyant than elsewhere in the home. Because they afford an introduction not only to the home but also to the people living in it, it's a proper place to display the most personal of mementoes.

There are two ways to do a foyer. It may serve as a summary of the decorative statements made in the rest of the house — introducing the color scheme as well as the style of the other rooms — or it may be a place in which to indulge in whimsy or dramatic effects, too daring to reappear elsewhere.

Since furnishings in a foyer are minimal the main impressions must come from the decorating of the backgrounds. Walls, floors, door treatments and even the ceiling carry the load of ornamental effect. Sometimes even the door becomes part of the picture as it was in an entry hall seen recently. Here, the door was painted with a rust and black geometric pattern reminiscent of the design of the Moroccan rug used in the hallway. Walls, like the background of the rug, were painted creamy pale beige.

In a well - known designer's entrance hall the wall is covered with a length of tapa cloth, a hand - dyed fabric from the South Seas that is patterned in odd geometric shapes in bark and earth shades. In front of it is a long refectory table on which reposes a collection of pre - Columbian figuries.

In the foyer of a connecticut house a reflecting pool, planted with water lilies commands attention. A bubbling fountain adds to the dramatic effect and the foyer is lighted from above by a skylight from which is suspended a "hanging garden" — a straw basket dripping with ivy. At night, artificial lights supplant daylight that streams from the skylight.

Red Satellites Hold Elections

VIENNA (UPI) — An estimated nine million Czechs and Slovaks elected a new rubber stamp parliament Sunday in the third national voting since the Communist takeover in 1948.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Whole Team Should Help Pay For Window

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by six junior high school baseball players. We have plenty of trouble.

Do you hink the pitcher should help the batter pay for the window? Should the whole team buy a new window? Should the man who owns the window say to the kids, "I'm willing to be a good sport and forget it because I was young once myself"?

Also, who should buy a new ball? The man who owns the broken window will not give it back. He says anything that falls into his living room belongs to him.

Please help us, Ann Landers. We can't afford a lawyer. —BLUE SOX

Dear Blue Sox: It would be very brotherly, indeed, if the whole team pitched in to help the batter pay for the window. Especially the pitcher—on account his earned-run average must have soared following such a stupendous blow.

The man who was young once himself will surely give the ball back when he learns that you little gentlemen are making plans to pay for the window.

Dear Ann: My wife is a wonderful woman and a fine mother, but the feeling I once had for her is gone. I can't explain it.

I try to be loving and attentive but it's hard work. I've fallen in love with another woman. She's married, too, and her husband is a close friend of mine and a great guy.

My new love and I steal an hour or two together whenever we can. We hate sneaking but there's no other way. She has three children. I have four. No one suspects and we wonder how much longer we can hide.

As if I haven't suffered enough torment and guilt, last week was the crowning blow. I was elected by our church club as "Father of the Year." Soon I'll have to sit through a banquet and accept the award. I'm afraid I'll die of a heart attack at the table.

I can't refuse to accept the honor without revealing myself. Please tell me what to do. For obvious reasons I can' seek guidance elsewhere. —PHONY OF THE YEAR

Dear Phony: You know what to do but you've written to me because you need someone to tell you to go ahead and do it.

There is only one decent, moral, responsible course of action open to you. Accept the honor and make up your mind that you're going to live up to it.

There are seven children, "a wonderful woman" and "a great guy" who must be considered. There can be no happiness for you if you throw them to the wolves.

Dear Ann: I read your advice to a student who complained because the teachers favored pretty girls and handsome boys, while the serious students with less than shining personalities were lucky to get the grades they earned.

You said personality alone won't work if you can't deliver the goods but you added, "a little banana oil is an effective lubricant for oiling the machinery of human relations."

What do you suggest when there's a clash of personalities and you just can't stand the professor? My papers added up to a 97 average but he gave me a C for the course. Is this fair? —U OF L.

Dear U.: Of course not. But who said life was always fair? If you can't stand the professor the feeling is probably mutual. You're bound to encounter additional personality conflicts throughout your life. The trick is keep them at a minimum—or suffer the consequences.

WEEKLY BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠Q1084 ♥6 ♦AK95 ♣AKJ7
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1♦	Pass	1♠	Pass

A.—Three clubs or four spades. The one bid for which there is no excuse is three spades which partner would feel obliged to pass if he held K J xxx in spades and nothing else.

Q. 2—You are South, both vulnerable and you hold:
♠QJ7 ♥A42 ♦A1095 ♣732
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South

What do you bid?

A.—Strike quickly and don't bother with such petty things as bidding game when there is real business to be done. Double in no uncertain terms.

Q. 3—Partner opens with one heart and you hold:
♥KQ6 ♦AQ10974 ♣A975
What is your response?

A.—This hand is worth 19 points in support of hearts, and, therefore, has definite slam possibilities. You should indicate this by an immediate jump shift to three diamonds.

Q. 4—You are South and hold:
♠54 ♥QJ7642 ♦J73 ♣J5
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1♠	Pass	2♠	3NT
Double	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. A bid of four hearts as a rescue indicates a lack of imagination. If partner were interested in hearing from you, he would have make a take-out double and asked you to speak. His bid is probably based on a long minor suit. Let him alone and permit him to work out his own destiny.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠Q10632 ♥KJ4 ♦A1063 ♣8
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South

What do you bid?

A.—Adding an additional point for the promoted value of the queen of spades and three points for the singleton brings your holding up to 14 points, which is quite enough for a jump raise to three spades. There is nothing to be gained by an indirect bid of three diamonds, which is not at all calculated to give a proper description of the hand.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠A843 ♥62 ♦AJ72 ♣963
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East

What do you bid now?

A.—Your hand is worth exactly 10 points in support of spades and a free raise by you would do justice to your holding. You will find that, if partner fails to act again over a free raise, there will be little likelihood of reaching game.

Q. 7—North-South vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠K987 ♦AK72 ♣A9863
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1♥	Double	2♥	2♠
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—In support of spades your hand is now worth 19 points without promoting the value of the king of spades. Bear in mind that partner has come in freely, therefore there can be no question but what game values are held between you. Bid four spades. As a matter of fact, a cue bid of three hearts could not be considered a severe overbid; for, with certain mediocre hands that partner might hold, the slam might conceivably be within reach.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠J10932 ♥K954 ♦63 ♣K7
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1♣	1♥
Pass	Pass	Double	Pass.

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. A bid of only one spade would be improper because it would give partner the impression that you were bidding merely under compulsion, whereas actually you had almost enough for a free bid of one spade.

Lebanese Vote In Installment Plan Election

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Lebanese mountaineers voted quietly Sunday in the first stage of this country's installment plan election of a new Parliament.

With 7,000 soldiers and police on guard against trouble, about 300,000 voters living in the Mount Lebanon area around and behind Beirut cast ballots in a picnic atmosphere. There were no reports of serious incidents.

At stake in this first Lebanese election since the costly civil strife of 1958 were 30 seats in a newly enlarged Parliament. Voting will take place on four successive Sundays in separate areas of the little half-Christian, half-Moslem republic for a total of 99 seats. There were 66 seats in the old Parliament.

U.S. Payments Abroad Down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States cut down its international payments deficit in the first three months of this year, the Commerce Department reported Sunday.

But the nation's payments to foreign countries still are running ahead of its receipts at a rate of three billion dollars a year, the department said.

This compares with an adverse balance of $3,800,000,000 last year and a $3,500,000,000 gap in 1958, however.

A sharp increase in U. S. exports of commercial goods largely accounted for the first quarter improvement the department said.

A bigger-than-usual demand for American cotton, an upsurge in deliveries of U. S. jets to foreign airlines and a comeback in steel and copper shipments were partly responsible for the exports gain.

Two Injuried In Ferriday Auto Wreck

FERRIDAY (Special) — Two persons were in a Ferriday hospital yesterday suffering from injuries suffered when the car in which they were riding went out of control and turned over near here late Saturday night.

They told investigating state police the accident occurred about seven miles north of Ferriday on a curve near St. John Lake, when a car pulled onto the road in front of them.

Moore, who was driving the vehicle said he swerved to miss the car, and his auto went over the road embankment. Police said the car turned over several times and was completely demolished.

Nelson, who was suffering from shock and possible internal injuries, graduated from Louisiana State University this spring, and is scheduled to teach in Baton Rouge this September.

EDIBLE PACKING

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Wallace R. Tate, a sailor at the Navy base here, watched his buddy open a package from home. It was a cake, in perfect condition.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Do Not Worry About Little Night Prowler

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

When your child has reached the age of 3 or thereabouts, you suddenly may discover that he has become a little night prowler.

Once he has discovered the art of climbing over his crib bars he is free to roam at will when the rooms are dark as pitch and all the household sleeps.

He may have discovered how fascinating this adventure is when he got out of bed to go to the toilet at night. Taking his trusty Bunny with him, or a handful of cars, he proceeds to sit on the bathroom floor and begins to play — disregarding the hour, which may be three a.m.

SATISFIES HUNGER

After a little play he finds he is hungry and wends his way to the kitchen where he opens the refrigerator carefully and gazes hungrily at its contents. He has sense enough to be quiet in order not to waken the family and be ordered back to bed. He knows if he is quiet he can enjoy this unprecedented freedom of doing just as he pleases.

Should a mother be worried if she wakens in the night to discover that a huddle of darkness in the middle of a room is her young son? It startles her but it needn't worry her if all he does is to play quietly or drink some milk, or eat some left-over food.

No one knows for sure why, just at this age, children do discover the enchantments of wandering about the house in the dark. It happens so regularly that we may as well expect it and be prepared for it.

PUT BAR DOWN

In fact, it is better to put down the crib bars once the child has learned how to climb over them, rather than to risk his falling in efforts to escape. If he likes to prowl in the night and gets into no mischief, then allow him this pleasure.

When his desire for solitary play has worn itself out, he'll be glad to go back to bed without any arguing. For the time we must take it for granted that there is a wakeful period in the middle of the night which the resourceful child fills with more play. No harm in that.

Rhee's Party Said Resigning

SEOUL (UPI) — The faltering Liberal Party of ousted President Syngman Rhee advised 138 party members Sunday to resign immediately from the National Assembly.

The call for resignation of the lawmakers came as the Liberals held their first national convention since the April student revolt that toppled the Rhee regime.

Briton Hits Band Playing 'Badenweiler'

LONDON (UPI) — Capt. Henry Kerby said Sunday he is "very annoyed" because the massed bands of the Royal Brigade of Guards played "Hitler's Piece" on Queen Elizabeth's birthday.

Kerby, a Conservative Party member of Parliament, denounced the band for striking up "The Badenweiler" while marching to the Queen's birthday ceremony of trooping the color Saturday.

"I think it was a disgrace," he said. "But it is in keeping with our wholesale sell-out of national sovereignty—look at our defense policy. When one looks at that, what does it matter whether guards play Hitler's favorite march or the 'Red Flag' (a socialist song)," Kerby said.

"It is all part and parcel of the disintegration of sovereignty and national pride," he said.

The war office defended the bands and the playing of "The Badenweiler."

"The guards bands often play it while marching between Wellington Barracks and Buckingham Palace," a war office spokesman said. "It was not played as part of the ceremony yesterday. It is a good tune.

"So why shouldn't the guards march to it?" the spokesman said.

There are seven children, "a wonderful woman" and "a great guy" who must be considered. There can be no happiness for you if you throw them to the wolves.

Dear Ann: I read your advice to a student who complained because the teachers favored pretty girls and handsome boys, while the serious students with less than shining personalities were lucky to get the grades they earned.

You said personality alone won't work if you can't deliver the goods but you added, "a little banana oil is an effective lubricant for oiling the machinery of human relations."

What do you suggest when there's a clash of personalities and you just can't stand the professor? My papers added up to a 97 average but he gave me a C for the course. Is this fair? —U OF L.

Dear U.: Of course not. But who said life was always fair? If you can't stand the professor the feeling is probably mutual. You're bound to encounter additional personality conflicts throughout your life. The trick is keep them at a minimum—or suffer the consequences.

WEEKLY BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠Q1084 ♥6 ♦AK95 ♣AKJ7
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1♦	Pass	1♠	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Three clubs or four spades. The one bid for which there is no excuse is three spades which partner would feel obliged to pass if he held K J xxx in spades and nothing else.

Q. 2—You are South, both vulnerable and you hold:
♠QJ7 ♥A42 ♦A1095 ♣732
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1NT	2♠	?

What do you bid?

A.—Strike quickly and don't bother with such petty things as bidding game when there is real business to be done. Double in no uncertain terms.

Q. 3—Partner opens with one heart and you hold:
♥KQ6 ♦AQ10974 ♣A975
What is your response?

A.—This hand is worth 19 points in support of hearts, and, therefore, has definite slam possibilities. You should indicate this by an immediate jump shift to three diamonds.

Q. 4—You are South and hold:
♠54 ♥QJ7642 ♦J73 ♣J5
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1♠	Pass	2♠	3NT
Double	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. A bid of four hearts as a rescue indicates a lack of imagination. If partner were interested in hearing from you, he would have make a take-out double and asked you to speak. His bid is probably based on a long minor suit. Let him alone and permit him to work out his own destiny.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠Q10632 ♥KJ4 ♦A1063 ♣8
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South

What do you bid?

A.—Adding an additional point for the promoted value of the queen of spades and three points for the singleton brings your holding up to 14 points, which is quite enough for a jump raise to three spades. There is nothing to be gained by an indirect bid of three diamonds, which is not at all calculated to give a proper description of the hand.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠A843 ♥62 ♦AJ72 ♣963
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East

What do you bid now?

A.—Your hand is worth exactly 10 points in support of spades and a free raise by you would do justice to your holding. You will find that, if partner fails to act again over a free raise, there will be little likelihood of reaching game.

Q. 7—North-South vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠K987 ♦AK72 ♣A9863
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1♥	Double	2♥	2♠
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—In support of spades your hand is now worth 19 points without promoting the value of the king of spades. Bear in mind that partner has come in freely, therefore there can be no question but what game values are held between you. Bid four spades. As a matter of fact, a cue bid of three hearts could not be considered a severe overbid; for, with certain mediocre hands that partner might hold, the slam might conceivably be within reach.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠J10932 ♥K954 ♦63 ♣K7
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1♣	1♥
Pass	Pass	Double	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. A bid of only one spade would be improper because it would give partner the impression that you were bidding merely under compulsion, whereas actually you had almost enough for a free bid of one spade.

Lebanese Vote In Installment Plan Election

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Lebanese mountaineers voted quietly Sunday in the first stage of this country's installment plan election of a new Parliament.

With 7,000 soldiers and police on guard against trouble, about 300,000 voters living in the Mount Lebanon area around and behind Beirut cast ballots in a picnic atmosphere. There were no reports of serious incidents.

At stake in this first Lebanese election since the costly civil strife of 1958 were 30 seats in a newly enlarged Parliament. Voting will take place on four successive Sundays in separate areas of the little half-Christian, half-Moslem republic for a total of 99 seats. There were 66 seats in the old Parliament.

U.S. Payments Abroad Down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States cut down its international payments deficit in the first three months of this year, the Commerce Department reported Sunday.

But the nation's payments to foreign countries still are running ahead of its receipts at a rate of three billion dollars a year, the department said.

This compares with an adverse balance of $3,300,000,000 last year and a $3,500,000,000 gap in 1958, however.

A sharp increase in U. S. exports of commercial goods largely accounted for the first quarter improvement the department said.

A bigger-than-usual demand for American cotton, an upsurge in deliveries of U. S. jets to foreign airlines and a comeback in steel and copper shipments were partly responsible for the exports gain.

Two Injuried In Ferriday Auto Wreck

FERRIDAY (Special) — Two persons were in a Ferriday hospital yesterday suffering from injuries suffered when the car in which they were riding went out of control and turned over near here late Saturday night.

Mason Nelson, of Baton Rouge and Walter Moore of Rayville were seriously injured in the mishap, according to attendants at the hospital.

They told investigating state police the accident occurred about seven miles north of Ferriday on a curve near St. John Lake, when a car pulled onto the road in front of them.

Moore, who was driving the vehicle said he swerved to miss the car, and his auto went over the road embankment. Police said the car turned over several times and was completely demolished.

The person driving the car which reportedly pulled out in front of the Moore auto had not been found late last night.

Nelson, who was suffering from shock and possible internal injuries, graduated from Louisiana State University this spring, and is scheduled to teach in Baton Rouge this September.

EDIBLE PACKING

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Wallace R. Tate, a sailor at the Navy base here, watched his buddy open a package from home. It was a cake, in perfect condition.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Do Not Worry About Little Night Prowler

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

When your child has reached the age of 3 or thereabouts, you suddenly may discover that he has become a little night prowler.

Once he has discovered the art of climbing over his crib bars he is free to roam at will when the rooms are dark as pitch and all the household sleeps.

He may have discovered how fascinating this adventure is when he got out of bed to go to the toilet at night. Taking his trusty Bunny with him, or a handful of cars, he proceeds to sit on the bathroom floor and begins to play — disregarding the hour, which may be three a.m.

SATISFIES HUNGER

After a little play he finds he is hungry and wends his way to the kitchen where he opens the refrigerator carefully and gazes hungrily at its contents. He has sense enough to be quiet in order not to waken the family and be ordered back to bed. He knows if he is quiet he can enjoy this unprecedented freedom of doing just as he pleases.

Should a mother be worried if she wakens in the night to discover that a huddle of darkness in the middle of a room is her young son? It startles her but it needn't worry her if all he does is to play quietly or drink some milk, or eat some left-over food.

No one knows for sure why, just at this age, children do discover the enchantments of wandering about the house in the dark. It happens so regularly that we may as well expect it and be prepared for it.

PUT BAR DOWN

In fact, it is better to put down the crib bars once the child has learned how to climb over them, rather than to risk his falling in efforts to escape. If he likes to prowl in the night and gets into no mischief, then allow him this pleasure.

When his desire for solitary play has worn itself out, he'll be glad to go back to bed without any arguing. For the time we must take it for granted that there is a wakeful period in the middle of the night which the resourceful child fills with more play. No harm in that.

Rhee's Party Said Resigning

SEOUL (UPI) — The faltering Liberal Party of ousted President Syngman Rhee advised 138 party members Sunday to resign immediately from the National Assembly.

The call for resignation of the lawmakers came as the Liberals held their first national convention since the April student revolt that toppled the Rhee regime.

Briton Hits Band Playing 'Badenweiler'

LONDON (UPI) — Capt. Henry Kerby said Sunday he is "very annoyed" because the massed bands of the Royal Brigade of Guards played "Hitler's Piece" on Queen Elizabeth's birthday.

Kerby, a Conservative Party member of Parliament, denounced the band for striking up "The Badenweiler" while marching to the Queen's birthday ceremony of trooping the color Saturday.

"I think it was a disgrace," he said. "But it is in keeping with our wholesale sell-out of national sovereignty—look at our defense policy. When one looks at that, what does it matter whether guards play Hitler's favorite march or the 'Red Flag' (a socialist song)," Kerby said.

"It is all part and parcel of the disintegration of sovereignty and national pride," he said.

The war office defended the bands and the playing of "The Badenweiler."

"The guards bands often play it while marching between Wellington Barracks and Buckingham Palace," a war office spokesman said. "It was not played as part of the ceremony yesterday. It is a good tune.

"So why shouldn't the guards march to it?" the spokesman said.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A N R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

AT THREE AIRPORTS

Airline Reports Operation Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Eastern Air Lines reported about one-third of its flight operations at the three metropolitan area airports had been canceled between midnight and noon Sunday because of the pilots' strike.

An airline spokesman said that, during the period, it had operated 53 flights out of Idlewild, La-Guardia and Newark, N.J., airports, and canceled 29 flights. The airline said a similar number of flight arrivals had been canceled during the same period.

Most of the passengers booked on canceled flights are being accommodated by other airlines, the spokesman added.

At present, the airline said, there were no flight operations between New York and Miami Beach and only a few flights to and from Boston. The spokesman said most of the pilots are failing to show up in Miami Beach and Boston.

The strike began midnight Friday because of pilots' objection to a new Federal Aviation Agency regulation which directs that FAA flight inspectors sit directly behind the captain on jet flights. The pilots claim this practice unsafe because the inspector displaces one of the copilots.

The company called the action of the pilots an unlawful strike and the pilots say it is a temporary work stoppage.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

AT THREE AIRPORTS

Airline Reports Operation Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Eastern Air Lines reported about one-third of its flight operations at the three metropolitan area airports had been canceled between midnight and noon Sunday because of the pilots' strike.

An airline spokesman said that, during the period, it had operated 53 flights out of Idlewild, La-Guardia and Newark, N.J., airports, and canceled 29 flights. The airline said a similar number of flight arrivals had been canceled during the same period.

Most of the passengers booked on canceled flights are being accommodated by other airlines, the spokesman added.

At present, the airline said, there were no flight operations between New York and Miami Beach and only a few flights to and from Boston. The spokesman said most of the pilots are failing to show up in Miami Beach and Boston.

The strike began midnight Friday because of pilots' objection to a new Federal Aviation Agency regulation which directs that FAA flight inspectors sit directly behind the captain on jet flights. The pilots claim this practice unsafe because the inspector displaces one of the copilots.

The company called the action of the pilots an unlawful strike and the pilots say it is a temporary work stoppage.

ALL AFRICA UPSET

Congo Subject Of Feud Talk

LONDON (AP) — Fears spread among Westerners Sunday that the imminent independence of the Belgian Congo will spark feuds that could upset all Africa. Belgium is pledged to lower her flag in the Congo June 30.

Election by the 13 million Congolese of a National Assembly has involved 110 political parties whose divisions largely follow the rivalries of old tribal societies.

This has led some officials gloomily to predict the 900,000-square-mile country may break up into a jigsaw puzzle of conflicting states.

There has been a major flight of capital.

For months Portugal has been quietly building up her power in the colony of Angola, southwest of the Congo. Now 80 picked troops are on the high seas bound for the Angola frontier region.

Southward in the British-run Central African Federation, Rhodesian troops are being moved to the border, ostensibly for training. In the north, Sudanese and French Equatorial authorities are ready for anything.

Belgium's action six months ago in promising to turn over power to the Congolese June 30 has been criticized in private by her allies with colonial responsibilities.

Their complaint is that the world will be inclined to judge the ability of all Africans to govern themselves by the outcome of the Congo gamble.

In the 51 years of Belgian rule the country was run well enough, but the people never were trained to take over political power. British experts consider the six-month transition period too short.

Must Press For Opening Suez

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon told American Jewish leaders in a letter made public Sunday that the United States must continue to press Egypt to open the Suez Canal to Israeli shipping.

Nixon also said this country should protect American interests from Arab boycott and blacklisting and should try to get Saudi Arabia to permit Jewish-American servicemen to serve at U.S. bases in Saudi Arabia.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Stevenson May Be Candidate For President

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, in a statement to "clarify my position," says, "I will serve my country and my party whenever called upon."

The statement, addressed to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, was immediately interpreted by her as meaning that Stevenson is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson already has declared publicly that he would not be a "draft evader" if his party demanded he run for president again.

Last week in her syndicated column, "My Day," Mrs. Roosevelt came out for a Stevenson—Kennedy ticket — a ticket she said would be the strongest the Democrats could field against Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Wired Stevenson: "I am deeply affected by what you have said of me, but I do confess that your request that I 'clarify my position' presents some difficulty. I realize that under present circumstances even a restatement of what has been said before may be given unintended and unwarranted interpretation.

ALL AFRICA UPSET

Congo Subject Of Feud Talk

LONDON (AP) — Fears spread among Westerners Sunday that the imminent independence of the Belgian Congo will spark feuds that could upset all Africa. Belgium is pledged to lower her flag in the Congo June 30.

Election by the 13 million Congolese of a National Assembly has involved 110 political parties whose divisions largely follow the rivalries of old tribal societies.

This has led some officials gloomily to predict the 900,000-square-mile country may break up into a jigsaw puzzle of conflicting states.

There has been a major flight of capital.

A food crisis is reported building up.

Many of the Congo's 113,000 white persons are leaving.

Among the neighbor states, special security precautions are being hurried just in case trouble spills over the frontiers.

For months Portugal has been quietly building up her power in the colony of Angola, southwest of the Congo. Now 80 picked troops are on the high seas bound for the Angola frontier region.

Southward in the British-run Central African Federation, Rhodesian troops are being moved to the border, ostensibly for training. In the north, Sudanese and French Equatorial authorities are ready for anything.

Belgium's action six months ago in promising to turn over power to the Congolese June 30 has been criticized in private by her allies with colonial responsibilities.

Their complaint is that the world will be inclined to judge the ability of all Africans to govern themselves by the outcome of the Congo gamble.

In the 51 years of Belgian rule the country was run well enough, but the people never were trained to take over political power. British experts consider the six-month transition period too short.

Must Press For Opening Suez

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon told American Jewish leaders in a letter made public Sunday that the United States must continue to press Egypt to open the Suez Canal to Israeli shipping.

Nixon also said this country should protect American interests from Arab boycott and blacklisting and should try to get Saudi Arabia to permit Jewish-American servicemen to serve at U.S. bases in Saudi Arabia.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Stevenson May Be Candidate For President

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, in a statement to "clarify my position," says, "I will serve my country and my party whenever called upon."

The statement, addressed to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, was immediately interpreted by her as meaning that Stevenson is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson already has declared publicly that he would not be a "draft evader" if his party demanded he run for president again.

Last week in her syndicated column, "My Day," Mrs. Roosevelt came out for a Stevenson—Kennedy ticket — a ticket she said would be the strongest the Democrats could field against Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

She asked Stevenson to clarify his position in that regard.

Wired Stevenson: "I am deeply affected by what you have said of me, but I do confess that your request that I 'clarify my position' presents some difficulty. I realize that under present circumstances even a restatement of what has been said before may be given unintended and unwarranted interpretation.

'WILD SPENDING'

Police Jury Group Asks Fund Protest

NATCHITOCHES, La. (AP) — The Louisiana Police Jury Assn. was reported Saturday asking top parish and city officials to march to the Legislature next Wednesday to protest "the wild spending of parish and city funds without our permission."

In letters to the officials, W. A. Breedlove of Natchitoches, executive secretary of the organization, told of two objectionable measures to be discussed at a meeting in a Baton Rouge hotel.

"A full summary of this rotten legislation will be given and then we will march to the Capitol and tell our story to members of the Legislature," the letter said.

"We will ask them to back-scratch with their own back-scratchers. If they want peace and harmony, let it not be at our expense."

Breedlove said the meeting was called by Charles Horne of Shreveport, president of the police jurors' association.

In the letters, Breedlove cited House Bills 377 and 925, and in an interview mentioned four others, House Bills 674, 675, 687 and 688.

House Bill 377, introduced by Rep. W. S. Peck Jr., of Catahoula Parish, proposes a constitutional amendment to exempt from state tax any motor fuel used for commercial fishing craft, farm machinery and tractors.

House Bill 925 by Rep. T. T. Fields of Union Parish, an administration floor leader, proposed a constitutional amendment to provide for the creation of uniform charter commissions for parishes and authorize establishment of alternate forms of government. It would allow parishes to change from police jury administration to charter commission rule similar to that of East Baton Rouge Parish.

The other four bills, all approved by the House and awaiting Senate action, would raise the salaries and expenses of sheriffs and assessors. The measures were introduced by Rep. Bryan J. Lehmann Jr. of St. Charles Parish, another floor leader for Gov. Jimmie Davis.

Breedlove's letter said in part, "We urgently request every police juror, secretary - treasurer, mayor and councilman who can do so to attend a mass meeting in ballroom of the Capitol House in Baton Rouge Wednesday, June 15 at 10 a.m.

"This meeting is called by Charles L. Horne Jr. of Shreveport and approved by the majority of the executive board for the purpose of bringing pressure against the wild spending of parish and city funds without our permission.

"This meeting is most important for many other reasons. For instance, House Bill 925 will make it very easy to do away with police juries completely. House Bill 377 threatens to reduce our gasoline tax to parishes and is opposed by us and the Department of Revenue. It received a favorable report in committee last Wednesday.

"Then of course you know of all the salary raises and expense allowances promised from local funds. You all will suffer a big shortage if these bills pass. . ."

Breedlove said Mayor Clyde Fant of Shreveport, chairman of the legislative body of the Louisiana Municipal Assn., had assured him LMA members would attend the Baton Rouge meeting.

Huge Dynamite Blast Planned In New Mexico

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Sunday it plans to explode 500 pounds of dynamite 24 miles above southern New Mexico next spring.

The balloon-launched experiment or possibly series of experiments, called Project Banshee, will permit studies of the effects of chemical explosions at high altitudes.

It also may contribute "knowledge to cope with military problems in the space and missile age the department said in a statement.

The Project Argus detonation of three small nuclear devices more than 300 miles above the South Pacific in August and September 1958 created a doughnut-shaped shell of radiation that girdled the globe.

There had been some speculation among scientists that high-altitude nuclear bursts might be used to create neutron fields that would detonate the nuclear warheads of incoming missiles before they reached their targets. However, Project Argus was believed to have demonstrated that missiles could be shielded to prevent premature warhead triggering.

In Project Banshee the proposed quarter-ton of dynamite would be lifted 125,000 feet above the White Sands missile range by a three-million-cubic-foot balloon as tall as a 20-story building.

'WILD SPENDING'

Police Jury Group Asks Fund Protest

NATCHITOCHES, La. (AP) — The Louisiana Police Jury Assn. was reported Saturday asking top parish and city officials to march to the Legislature next Wednesday to protest "the wild spending of parish and city funds without our permission."

In letters to the officials, W. A. Breedlove of Natchitoches, executive secretary of the organization, told of two objectionable measures to be discussed at a meeting in a Baton Rouge hotel.

"A full summary of this rotten legislation will be given and then we will march to the Capitol and tell our story to members of the Legislature," the letter said.

"We will ask them to backscratch with their own backscratchers. If they want peace and harmony, let it not be at our expense."

Breedlove said the meeting was called by Charles Horne of Shreveport, president of the police jurors' association.

In the letters, Breedlove cited House Bills 377 and 925, and in an interview mentioned four others, House Bills 674, 675, 687 and 688.

House Bill 377, introduced by Rep. W. S. Peck Jr., o. Catahoula Parish, proposes a constitutional amendment to exempt from state tax any motor fuel used for commercial fishing craft, farm machinery and tractors.

House Bill 925 by Rep. T. T. Fields of Union Parish, an administration floor leader, proposed a constitutional amendment to provide for the creation of uniform charter commissions for parishes and authorize establishment of alternate forms of government. It would allow parishes to change from police jury administration to charter commission rule similar to that of East Baton Rouge Parish.

The other four bills, all approved by the House and awaiting Senate action, would raise the salaries and expenses of sheriffs and assessors. The measures were introduced by Rep. Bryan J. Lehmann Jr. of St. Charles Parish, another floor leader for Gov. Jimmie Davis.

Breedlove's letter said in part: "We urgently request every police juror, secretary - treasurer, mayor and councilman who can do so to attend a mass meeting in ballroom of the Capitol House in Baton Rouge Wednesday, June 15 at 10 a.m.

"This meeting is called by Charles L. Horne Jr. of Shreveport and approved by the majority of the executive board for the purpose of bringing pressure against the wild spending of parish and city funds without our permission.

"This meeting is most important for many other reasons. For instance, House Bill 925 will make it very easy to do away with police juries completely. House Bill 377 threatens to reduce our gasoline tax to parishes and is opposed by us and the Department of Revenue. It received a favorable report in committee last Wednesday.

"Then of course you know of all the salary raises and expense allowances promised from local funds. You all will suffer a big shortage if these bills pass. . ."

Breedlove said Mayor Clyde Fant of Shreveport, chairman of the legislative body of the Louisiana Municipal Assn., had assured him LMA members would attend the Baton Rouge meeting.

Huge Dynamite Blast Planned In New Mexico

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Sunday it plans to explode 500 pounds of dynamite 24 miles above southern New Mexico next spring.

The balloon-launched experiment or possibly series of experiments, called Project Banshee, will permit studies of the effects of chemical explosions at high altitudes.

It alsy may contribute "knowledge to cope with military problems in the space and missile age the department said in a statement.

Earlier studies have dealt with the results of nuclear explosions far above the earth.

The Project Argus detonation of three small nuclear devices more than 300 miles above the South Pacific in August and September 1958 created a doughnut-shaped shell of radiation that girdled the globe.

There had been some speculation among scientists that high-altitude nuclear bursts might be used to create neutron fields that would detonate the nuclear warheads of incoming missiles before they reached their targets. However, Project Argus was believed to have demonstrated that missiles could be shielded to prevent premature warhead triggering.

The nuclear tests used rockets as launching vehicles.

In Project Banshee the proposed quarter-ton of dynamite would be lifted 125,000 feet above the White Sands missile range by a three-million-cubic-foot balloon as tall as a 20-story building.
